

Honor's College

Students are recruited to enter the Honors College upon their graduation from high school. Roughly 200 hardworking and intelligent students return to East Texas each fall to gain a better understanding of the world around them and of themselves. The Honors College curriculum requires students to take roughly half of their core courses in Honors sections. These Honors courses are capped at 25 and are staffed by faculty who has requested to work with Honors students. Faculty are encouraged to take novel approaches to teaching course material and to push students to think critically and creatively. In addition to the core courses, students attend a series of colloquia and complete a thesis project (typically) in their major area.
