The Dean of Students office provides many services for students and faculty that can be found on the Campus Life website. The Dean's office is available to assist faculty in matters regarding student behavior. One major intervention resource that assists with student behavior is the Behavioral Intervention Team (BIT). The BIT Team serves as a central network focused on preventative and timely intervention before crises arise. It is a resource by which faculty and all members of the university community can report student behaviors of concern. Examples of such instances include but are not limited to: behavior that appears to be dangerous or threatening to self or others; troubling behavior; angry, hostile or abusive behavior; or other behavior that is inappropriate or disruptive.
