Gov. Rick Perry released the following statement 1/7/2013 regarding Comptroller Susan Combs' biennial revenue estimate:

"Today's revenue estimate is more evidence that we made the right decisions two years ago by budgeting carefully to meet the challenges of the national recession. The Texas formula of low taxes, reasonable regulations, fair courts and a quality workforce is the best way to continue creating jobs and growing our economy. Even as we head into the 83rd Legislative Session with higher revenues, we still need to focus on separating our wants from our needs, and continue to follow the conservative fiscal principles that have led to Texas' ongoing success and will keep Texas strong."
Calendar for the 83rd Session of the Texas Legislature

- Tuesday, January 8, 2013 (1st day) - 83rd Legislature convenes at noon
- Friday, March 8, 2013 (60th day) - Deadline for filing bills and joint resolutions other than local bills, emergency appropriations, and bills that have been declared an emergency by the governor
- Monday, May 27, 2013 (140th day) - Last day of 83rd Regular Session
- Session Ends (Sine Die)
- Sunday, June 16, 2013 (20th day following final adjournment) - Last day governor can sign or veto bills passed during the regular legislative session
- Monday, August 26, 2013 (91st day following final adjournment) - Date that bills without specific effective dates (that could not be effective immediately) become law
Two overarching themes are going to set the overall tone

- Make-up of the two chambers – significant turnover
- Budget
  - Good news is that revenues are up!
  - But . . . there are big holes to fill that will use most of that revenue.
- Other issues
  - Infrastructure (Water and Transportation)
Higher Education Issues

• Governor and Legislature are talking about the same big picture issues: accountability, outcomes, and affordability.

• Governor’s Agenda
  • $10,000 degree
  • 4-year tuition freeze
  • Outcomes-based funding
  • Increased fiscal transparency and accountability
Higher Education Issues

- Legislature
  - Outcomes based funding
  - Increase completion rates/time to degree
  - HB3025 – Policy issues from last session
  - Affordability - TEXAS grants, B-On-Time, Tuition
- Coordinating Board
  - New Statewide Plan to replace Closing the Gaps
  - Outcomes based funding
- Others
  - Addressing the exponential growth in the Hazlewood exemption program
A&M-Commerce Legislative Planning

• 9/6/2012   LAR Hearing with staff of Governor’s Office of Budget, Planning & Policy and the LBB
• 11/13/2012  Representative Dan Flynn visited campus
• 12/3/2012  Representative Dan Branch visited campus
• 12/6/2012  Senator Bob Deuell visited campus

• The Department of Economics and Finance has leased a Bloomberg data terminal that will allow their faculty and students to monitor and analyze real time financial data which will significantly enhance faculty research productivity as well as student marketability. Hosting this “Bloomberg Environment” will allow A&M-Commerce business students to become Bloomberg certified (as they can in other respected universities nationally and in the DFW area).
The CBE is also expanding its SAP training and certification efforts. SAP AG, one of the leading enterprise resource planning applications, is a fully integrated business software system. Currently, we are using the SAP ERP system within the BBA in MIS program where students gain hands-on experience in cross-functional impacts and supply chains through the production, sales, and financial statements. The CBE is now positioning itself to open the door of full certification for all our students; graduate and undergraduate by 2015. This initiative involves training the faculty, collaboration among departments and faculty, and revamping a number of courses to allow SAP integration. Dr. Stanley Holmes, who retired from ORACLE Corporation as the VP of Business Development, is taking a lead in this endeavor, exposing students to real life cases and ERP/SAP systems.
