Procedure Statement

Texas A&M University-Commerce maintains approval processes for new program development, program delivery and curriculum changes. All actions are to be in accordance with approval by the appropriate university bodies, The Texas A&M University System, the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB), and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools of the Commission of Colleges (SACSCOC).

Reason for Procedure

This procedure describes the university’s institution-wide processes for modifications in courses. These modifications also include adding and discontinuing courses. It establishes the processes that must be followed in order to be within the guidelines and standards set by the University and in some cases external bodies. This procedure has two internal processes, one at the expedited level and the other at a non-expedited level. For changes or new program proposals, see University Procedure 03.02.99.R0.01 Academic Approval Procedure for Programs.

The University maintains an online electronic approval process that will mirror this process. Electronic signatures will be utilized in the system with the exception of the wet signatures required by external entities described in this procedure.

Procedures and Responsibilities

1 GENERAL

1.1 The faculty, with support of the administration, is responsible for the development, implementation and monitoring of academic courses. In developing academic courses and making changes to the curriculum, the University will follow standards of good practice and the guidelines established by this procedure, the A&M System, THECB and SACSCOC. The University will avoid the unwarranted proliferation of course offerings.
The role of each body in this process is as follows:

1.1.1 Department Curriculum Committee is to review curriculum alignment, available prerequisites, course type, and delivery method. For new courses, or significantly changed courses, review student-learning outcomes.

1.1.2 Department Head is to review any impact on program credit hours, alignment with any specialized accreditation, implication of THECB and/or SACSCOC thresholds for review or notification, matching department mission, and capacity.

1.1.3 College Curriculum Committee reviews departmental process, assesses for college level duplication, and examines for clarity of proposal.

1.1.4 As applicable, the Educator Certification Committee ensures that changes comply with Texas Education Agency policy and Texas Administrative Code related to educator preparation and certification.

1.1.5 Dean of the college ensures the changes match the college academic mission and the college has the capacity for the change.

1.1.6 Provost/Deans’ Council reviews the changes for an institutional impact and capacity perspective. This should also involve a review of the proposal in light of the academic mission and goals of the institution.

1.1.7 Institutional Effectiveness reviews for compliance with A&M System, THECB, and SACSCOC as applicable.

1.1.8 As applicable, Graduate Council reviews the proposal to ensure it aligns with current Graduate School procedures. This should also involve a review of the proposal in light of the academic mission and goals of the Graduate School.

1.1.9 Faculty Senate ensures the entities involved have complied with this procedure.

1.2 All colleges must develop an approval process that, at a minimum, involves curriculum oversight by its Executive Council.

1.2.1 Schools that report to a College Dean will follow the departmental process. Schools that report to the Provost will follow the departmental and college process combined in accordance with their school curriculum approval process.

1.3 This process will occur in the fall and spring semesters in accordance with the course approval calendar.
