

Curriculum Vitae

Name:

Ryan Scauzillo
Graduate Assistant
Department of Biological and Environmental Sciences
Texas A&M University – Commerce,
Commerce, TX, 75429-3011

Phone: 903-886-5371

E-mail: rscauzillo@leomail.tamuc.edu

Education:

Undergraduate: B.S in Biology,
Texas A&M University – Commerce
Graduated December, 2009

Graduate: M.S. in Biology
Texas A&M University – Commerce
In Progress

Teaching Experience:

BSc 306: Advanced Microbiology Lab: Spring 2011
BSc 307: Ecology Lab: Fall 2010, 2011 and 2012
BSc 1413: Zoology Lab: Spring 2011, 2012 and 2013
BSc 337: Field Methods in Wildlife Conservation Lab: Spring 2012 and 2013
BSc 2401: US- Anatomy and Physiology I: Summer I 2012
BSc 2402: US- Anatomy and Physiology II: Summer II 2012
ENVS 1301: Intro to Environmental Science Lab: Fall 2012

Poster Presentations:

Scauzillo, R. and Lyman-Henley, L. 2012. The preference of female mice (Mus musculus) to odor cues from environmentally enriched and non-enriched males. Proceedings of the 6th annual Texas A&M University System Pathways Student Research Symposium, 9-10, November, 2012, Texas A&M University – Galveston.