CATALOG DESCRIPTION OF COURSE

501. Introduction to the Counseling Profession. Three semester hours.

Recommended as initial course in a student's program to serve as an introduction to the counseling profession. Roles of counselors and related professionals in various settings are presented. Professional goals and objectives; trends; professional associations; ethical and legal issues; history; credentialing; preparation standards for counselors; and essential interviewing and counseling skills, characteristics, and behaviors that influence helping processes are explored.

GENERAL COURSE INFORMATION

This course should be taken early in the student's preparation program. This course serves primarily as an orientation to the counseling profession and as a course where students develop basic interviewing and counseling skills and self-awareness that promotes appropriate counselor-client relationships. A grade of "B" or higher must be earned in COUN 501, 510, 528, and 516 for admission to candidacy status (or its equivalent for those seeking school counselor certification only), which is required before practicum (COUN 551).

COURSE OBJECTIVES include, but are not limited to, the following.

Students will demonstrate understanding of:

1. essential interviewing and counseling skills so that the student is able to develop a therapeutic relationship
2. counselor and consultant characteristics and behaviors that influence helping processes including verbal and nonverbal behaviors and personal characteristics, orientations, and skills;
3. self-awareness so that the counselor-client relationship is therapeutic and the counselor maintains appropriate professional boundaries;
4. history and philosophy of the counseling profession, including significant factors and events;
5. requirements for entry into, progress through, and completion of the Texas A&M University–Commerce counselor preparation program.
6. professional roles, functions, and relationships with other human service providers;
7. integration of technological strategies and applications within counseling and consultation processes;
8. professional organizations, primarily ACA, its divisions, branches, and affiliates, including membership benefits, activities, services to members, and current emphases;
9. professional credentialing, including certification, licensure, and accreditation practices and standards, and the effects of public policy on these issues;
10. public and private policy processes, including the role of the professional counselor in advocating on behalf of the profession;
11. advocacy processes needed to address institutional and social barriers that impede access, equity, and success for clients;
12. a general framework for understanding and practicing consultation, including an examination of the historical development of consultation;
13. ethical standards of ACA and related entities, and applications of ethical and legal considerations in professional counseling;

CONTENT AREAS include, but are not limited to, the following:

| Taped Listening Skills Assignment | 25 |
| Multiple Choice Final Exam | 20 |
| Total | 100 |

COURSE REQUIREMENTSATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION:

Attendance and active participation are a necessary and vital part of the course. Active participation includes attending each class session, completing reading assignments prior to class sessions, and participating in class discussions. The student is expected to attend class regularly. Absence from class and/or nonparticipation will result in grade reduction. Students are expected to attend all classes and arrive on time. In order to earn full credit for attending, students must be present at both the beginning and ending of class meetings.

More than two absences (or more than 5 class hours missed) will result in your final grade being reduced one grade level. More than three absences will require you to repeat this course for credit. Being late to class or leaving class early will result in grade reduction. Participation includes the ability of the student to interact with the professor and peers in a professional and respectful manner.

APA FORMATTED PAPER:

The student will be required to develop a 10-page, APA formatted paper. In this paper, the student will describe a facet of the counseling profession. The subject may be an area that is currently well-researched and practiced (i.e., working with clients dealing with substance abuse, working with grieving clients, etc.) or an area of the profession that is not as well researched or practiced (i.e., working with adult clients managing Asperger's Syndrome, working with clients dealing with traumatic brain injury, etc.).

The paper must include:

- a title page;
- an introduction of the issue (a rationale for why this issue is important);
- difficulties in working with the issue;
- examples of how the issue may be managed, treated, or cured;
- a conclusion; and
- a reference page (At least 10 references must be used in completing this paper. At least 5 of those references must be reviewed journal articles. The remaining references may be subject-related books or book chapters.)
- no abstract is necessary for this paper

The paper will be graded based on content (10pts), writing (5pts), & APA format (5pts).

TAPED LISTENING SKILLS ASSIGNMENTS:

The student will be required to complete a recording of a listening skills session with a fellow classmate. The length of the session will be 20 minutes. In this time, the student will listen to content and facilitate the fellow classmate continuing to share content by participating in active listening skills (i.e., reflection of feeling, paraphrase, open-ended questions, minimal encouragers, reflection of meaning, etc.). The assignment will be described in greater detail as the assignment due date approaches.

The listening skills assignment will be graded based upon use of basic listening skills (15pts), skill in completion of transcript of interaction (5pts), and self-introspection (5pts).

MID-TERM AND FINAL EXAMS:

The student will complete two exams. These exams will consist of multiple choice questions. The mid-term exam and the final exam is worth 20 points.
