COURSE INFORMATION

Materials – Textbooks, Readings, Supplementary Readings:

Textbook(s) Required:

2. A notebook (your choice) that will serve as your Journal
3. Writing paper - we will write in class everyday
4. Pens/pencils/highlighters
5. Access to a printer & paper - you’ll print approximately 100 pages for this class throughout the semester.

Course Description:

This course is designed to support you in successfully completing your ENG 1301 class. You’ll work with your small groups and ENG 100 instructor to strengthen your drafts for ENG 1301, better understand your writing process, and work individually on the challenges you may face when writing academic texts.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Students will be able to use rhetorical terminology to describe writing.
Students will be able to identify instances of plagiarism and explain why it is a serious offense in academic writing.
Students will be able to interpret texts written for academic audiences.
Students will be able to use academic writing conventions in their own writing.
COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Instructional / Methods / Activities Assessments

Feedback Sessions:

Be prepared to talk about your own writing and the writing of others in the group as we workshop papers. You will share drafts of your writing with other readers, they will respond. We will frequently workshop your papers and you should always be prepared to participate by contributing enthusiastically, knowledgably, and productively to all discussions. The purpose for the workshop sessions is to help you develop habits of reflection and effective ways to “see” others’ work in order to help them revise it, even as you learn to revise your own work with the same strategies. You will respond regularly, respectfully, and diplomatically, to the work of other members of your group through workshop papers.

In preparation for workshop days, you will be required to submit your essays to me one class period in advance to ensure that they are ready to be reviewed by others.

Writing Center Visits:

You are required to make a minimum of 6 Writing Center visits for this class. Each one is equal to 5% of your final grade for a total of 30%.

The WC is a useful and effective tool for you. If you need help generating ideas, assessing concerns, or getting feedback with your writing, revision, formatting, etc., the WC is the place to go for help. The Writing Center will be especially helpful when you write your Self Assessment Paper. Be sure to ask for a “proof sheet” for any Writing Center visits!

Journals:

Bring a notebook every day to record your observations, thoughts, and ideas based on your English 100 lab readings and writings. You will also write responses to class prompts and discussions. The Journal is required for this class and will serve as a space for you to be creative without worrying about grammatical issues. The journal allows you to see your growth as a writer over the semester, and you will need to use the information from your journal to craft your critical reflection paper required for this class (ENG 100) at the end of the semester.

Writing Assignments:

In addition to journaling, you will be required to turn in 4 writing assignments throughout the course of the semester which may vary in length and rhetorical style.
Midterm Conferences:

At midterm you will summarize the key points from your journal and present them to me in an individual conference. You must attend this meeting. It is designed to give us a chance to talk about your progress.

Self-Assessment Paper (Final Lab Project):

This reflective essay is your final writing assignment for English 100. This is NOT one of the regular writing assignments for your ENG 1301 class. In this essay, you will be expected to describe your revision processes, tell how those have changed and evolved over the semester, and cite your own writings as examples of that progress. You should be prepared to quote from your readings, your papers, your teacher, your tutor sessions, and your journal. Length requirement on this essay is a minimum of 8 full pages, double spaced, MLA format.

Grade Calculation:

Your lab grade will be calculated using the following criteria:

| | |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Participation</td>
<td>15 %</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Writing Center Visits</td>
<td>30 %</td>

Your grade for this class (lab) will count toward 30% of your grade in ENG 1301.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

You will need:

• A valid, working email address that you check often (everyday)

• Regular internet access (additional readings available online)

• Access to a computer with a word processing program and a printer (assignments must be typed and printed, and you will print approximately 100 pages for this class.)

• Some instructors of ENG 100L may choose to utilize an eCollege course shell.

ACCESS AND NAVIGATION

Some texts for this course may exist exclusively online, so you must have Internet access to read and/or view these texts.
COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT

Interaction with Instructor Statement:

Please contact your instructor with any questions you may have. Your instructor’s communication preference is e-mail, and his address is: aspencer6@leomail.tamuc.edu. Also, each instructor in the department of literature and languages is required to keep at least three office hours per course per week.

Grievance Procedure:

If you have concerns about the class or about me as an instructor, please speak to me about those concerns. If you are not satisfied with the outcome of our conversation, the next person in the chain of command is the Director of the Writing Program, Dr. Tabetha Adkins. Her e-mail address is Tabetha_Adkins@tamu-commerce.edu. Please see this site for more information on the grievance procedures: http://web.tamu-commerce.edu/academics/colleges/humanitiesSocialSciencesArts/departments/literatureLanguages/firstYearWriting/informationForStudents.aspx

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures:

Attendance Policy

You may only miss up to four times without penalty. After the fifth absence, your final grade will drop by one letter. After the seventh absence, you cannot pass the course.

There is no such thing as “partial attendance”—you are either present for the entire course or you are absent. Excessive tardiness can be penalized as an absence.

The university has no policy for “excused absences” except for university sanctioned events, so please save your absences for illness, court appearances, child care arrangements, and other situations when you must miss class.

Academic Honesty

The official departmental policy: “Instructors in the Department of Literature and Languages do not tolerate plagiarism and other forms of academic dishonesty. Instructors uphold and support the highest academic standards, and students are expected to do likewise. Penalties for students guilty of academic dishonesty include disciplinary probation, suspension, and expulsion. (Texas A&M University-Commerce Code of Student Conduct 5.b [1,2,3])
If you ever have any questions about a particular use of a source, always ask your instructor. They want you to avoid plagiarism, too, so they will help you do so whenever and wherever they can. Do what you can to take advantage of this support—to look innocent in addition to being innocent when it comes to charges of plagiarism.

Students guilty of academic dishonesty or plagiarism can expect to fail the assignment in question or the entire course depending on the nature of the incident.

On University-Sanctioned Activities

To accommodate students who participate in university-sanctioned activities, the First-Year Composition Program offers sections of this course at various times of the day and week. If you think that this course may conflict with a university-sanctioned activity in which you are involved—athletics, etc.—please see your instructor after class on the first day.

University Specific Procedures:

On Behalf of Students with Disabilities:

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact:

Office of Student Disability Resources and Services
Texas A&M University-Commerce
Gee Library 132
