SPED 346 – Introduction to Exceptional Children

Course Syllabus

Content Tentative and Subject to Change

Course Required Texts: Information

Hallahan, D.P., Kauffman, J. M., & Pullen. P.C. (2012). Exceptional Learners: An Introduction to Special Education (12th Ed.). Boston: Allyn and Bacon. (ISBN # 13:978-0-703370-6 / 10:0-13-703370-2)

Each week, I will provide you with detailed step-by-step instructions in reference to course guidelines to include audio presentations within weekly agendas that you can access via our SPED 346 eCollege course shell. Please carefully review all text and videos that I provide to you within each weekly agenda.

Each week will begin on a Monday and conclude the following Midnight Sunday with the exception of Week 16, which concludes Midnight Thursday of that particular week.

Course Description:

This course will provide a survey of populations with exceptionalities. Attention will be given to the cause of these deviations and their effect upon the individual's development. Professional roles of the special education team members as well as the policies and regulations applicable to special education programs in general will be covered.

Student Learning Outcomes:

TExES Competencies Addressed: The following are the standard course objectives: The student is expected to be able to 001: Understand and apply knowledge of the characteristics and needs of students with disabilities.

004: Understand and apply knowledge of procedures for managing the teaching and learning environment, including procedures related to the use of assistive technology.

010: Understand the philosophical, historical, and legal foundations of special education.

012: Knows how to communicate and collaborate effectively in a variety of professional settings.

Course Design of the Class and Communication:
Requirements

This is a 100% online course. Please review the eCollege weekly agendas that complete the course calendar and updated announcements within our SPED 346 eCollege course homepage for updated information pertaining to this course.

In order to minimize confusion and repetition, I like to communicate through personal email as little as possible. Therefore, each of the weekly agendas within our SPED 346 course shall contain a link entitled Weekly Q&A where you can post questions and review responses to questions that pertain to course information as we progress through this course. While you are welcome to email me in reference to personal matters, I prefer that you ask non-confidential questions through these Weekly Q&A forums. If you prefer to correspond via telephone, simply email me a telephone number where I can reach you and a time that will be convenient for me to call you. Prior to asking a question, please quickly review previous responses within a particular Weekly Q&A forum as your question may already have been addressed. You are also welcome to respond to a classmate's question if you can accurately address the issue.

You are also welcome to stop by my office during the office hours that I posted at the beginning of this course syllabus.

Assignments:

Assignments that you complete for this course should not have been used in other courses.

You must complete all assignments to earn an A in this course.

Grading Rubric: A: 140 – 126 B: 125 – 112 C: 111 – 98 D: 97 – 84 F: 83 – 0

Weekly Discussion Forums: (12 @ 5 points each)

Twelve weekly agendas within this course contain a discussion forum. I would like for you to respond to the question or activity that is specifically designated for each discussion forum and activity. Utilize the resource/reading list that complements each discussion forum and create an original discussion post to respond to a particular forum by Thursday of each discussion forum week.

I would then like for you to interact and provide feedback to at least two of your classmates original discussion forum posts. Your contribution to the discussion forums will be graded quality not quantity, timeliness of your contributions (please do not wait until Saturday to begin participation), and a detailed analysis of linking together theory to application via critical thinking evident within your discussions. Each discussion forum will be open until Midnight Sunday of each discussion forum week.

SPED 346 Discussion Forum Grading Rubric

Timeliness of posting your original discussion forum post to allow sufficient time for peer feedback. Post by the Thursday of particular discussion forum week.	0 1 2 3
Quality of constructive feedback that you provide to at least two classmates in reviewing their original discussion forum posts prior to Midnight Sunday of particular discussion forum week.	0 1 2
	Point Total = /5

Reflection Assignments: (4 @ 20 points each)

You will be provided with four reflection assignments to complete by specified due dates (course calendar), which should be written in essay format (please avoid outlines and simple listings). Utilize the weekly agenda resources that complement each reflection assignment, completely answer questions and write responses in your own words (refer to student handbook regarding plagiarism). Please submit your reflection assignment through our eCollege course dropbox by specified due dates.

You will see a turnitin percentage when you submit a reflection assignment through the dropbox. While you want a low turnitin percentage figure (below 35%), you do not need to worry about your turnitin percentage unless I notify you via the dropbox.

Professionalism:

Student participation is a critical element of the course structure. Students are expected to engage in the scholarly discourse of the scheduled subject matter and respect (not necessarily agree with) opinions of classmates.

Scholarly Expectations:

All works submitted for credit must be original works created by the scholar uniquely for the class. It is considered inappropriate and unethical to make duplicate submissions of a single work for credit in multiple classes, unless specifically requested by the instructor.

Dropping the Class:

At times, we become overloaded or have unplanned events that demand our attention. If you need to adjust your schedule by dropping this course, please follow university procedures to officially drop the class. Please do not just disappear. If you fail to officially drop the class, grade must be assigned at the end of the course.

Incomplete Grades:

Per university policy, you must visit with the instructor, develop, and sign "A Plan for Completing the Grade of X" before you may receive an incomplete for the course. The reason for such requests is limited to "circumstances beyond student's control which prevented student from attending classes during Finals Week or the preceding three weeks." You are notified that the deadline date for all plans is not to exceed one semester. Failure to fulfill requirements within the specified time will result in a course grade of F.

Academic Honesty:

Please see the TAMU-C Graduate Catalog and the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (2010) for the discussion of academic honesty. Academic honesty is especially important when it comes to citing/quoting sources in research papers and assignments. Students are responsible for reading this material and becoming familiar with conventions for acknowledging sources of information. Consequences for academic dishonesty range from failing a specific assignment to expulsion from the University.

"Conduct that violates generally accepted standards of academic honesty is defined as academic dishonesty, which includes, but is not limited to plagiarism (the appropriation or stealing of ideas or words of another and passing them off as one's own), cheating on exams or other course assignments, collusion (the unauthorized collaboration with others in preparing course assignments) and abuse (destruction, defacing, or removal) of resource material."
