CATALOG DESCRIPTION OF COURSE
528. Introduction to Group Dynamics and Procedures. Three Semester Hours.
A study of group development, dynamics, and theories in relation to group guidance, group counseling, and group therapy. Leadership styles, techniques and roles are explored, and ethical and legal issues related to group interventions are discussed. Prerequisite: COUN 510 or consent of instructor with concurrent enrollment in COUN 510.

GENERAL COURSE INFORMATION
As one of the core courses in the TAMU-Commerce Counseling Program, this course should be taken early in the student’s program, but not first. The course includes studies that provide both theoretical and experiential understandings of group purpose, development, dynamics, counseling theories, group counseling methods and skills, and other group approaches. A grade of “B” or higher must be earned in COUN 501, 510, 528, and 516 for admission to candidacy status (or its equivalent for those seeking school counselor certification only), which is required before practicum (COUN 551).

COURSE OBJECTIVES include, but are not limited to, the following.
The purpose of this course is threefold: 1) the student will be introduced to basic concepts of groups with a didactic method; 2) the student will become more conscious of his or her personal growth through participation as a group member; and 3) the student will practice initial skills necessary for T-group leadership during group sessions. Group experiences are designed as experiential training for membership and leadership; they are not designed to substitute for therapy.

The student will:
1. demonstrate understanding of principles of group dynamics, including group process components, developmental stage theories, group members’ roles and behaviors, and therapeutic factors of group work;
2. demonstrate understanding of group leadership styles and approaches, including characteristics of various types of group leaders and leadership styles;
3. demonstrate understanding of theories of group counseling, including commonalities, distinguishing characteristics, and pertinent research and literature;
4. demonstrate understanding of group counseling methods, including group counselor orientations and behaviors, appropriate selection criteria and methods, and methods of evaluation of effectiveness;
5. demonstrate understanding of approaches used for other types of group work, including task groups, psychoeducational groups, and therapy groups;
6. demonstrate understanding of professional preparation standards for group leaders;
7. demonstrate understanding of ethical and legal considerations related to group work;
8. become more conscious of his/her personal growth through participation as a group member.

VIII. Ethical and legal considerations related to group work

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION
Lecture, discussion, and experiential.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS
In addition to other requirements, this course involves an experiential component of at least 10 hours designed as training for group membership and leadership. The group experiences are not designed to substitute for therapy.

Participation and Homework:
Because the group process is seriously affected by member absence, participation is required. Your grade will be lowered one level for any unexcused absence. Homework assignments (written and non-written) are to be completed prior to the assigned date. All papers are due at the beginning of the class period. Late papers will have 10% deducted from the final score.

Weekly Journal:
Each week you will turn in a 2-3 page journal on the previous week’s class. The journal will consist of a section for each of the following headings:
Description of the group as a whole: identifying
   a) the mood (e.g., what changes, if any, did you notice?)
   b) topic of greatest interest to the group, and
c) activity level (e.g., what changes did you notice?)

Self-appraisal: identifying
   a) your mood (e.g., what changes, if any, did you notice?)
   b) topic of greatest interest to you, and
   c) your activity level (e.g., what changes did you notice?)

Description of one member
   Something you admire or something you noticed as a characteristic (this is not a behavioral description)

Relation of group session to outside experience
   How you might use something we did in class in your future position as counselor.

Midterm Exam:
There will be an in-class essay midterm.

Paper:
The object of the paper is to propose a counseling group you might like to conduct in Practicum or Internship. Minimum length is 25-pages, typed and double-spaced using APA style. The paper will include references from at least ten journal articles, in addition to texts. In addition to citing and synthesizing information from the related literature, you should specify the form and content of each group session, stating your objectives for each. Include your selection procedure and screening techniques. Identify the session(s) when individual education plans will be identified for each member, and the opportunities for subsequent follow-up on each member’s progress.

Be certain your paper includes all elements listed in the Group Paper Outline (included in this syllabus).

Your paper should address a group counseling application, not a group guidance or group psychotherapy situation. It would be practical to identify a group you might actually lead in your practicum or internship field placement. Do not choose a suicide prevention group for your first attempt. Also avoid groups composed of all the children teachers are most happy to have absent. These “at-risk” groups of students are worthy of counseling, but frequently involve mislabeling or dual diagnoses.

Samples of student papers are available on reserve at Gee library.

STUDENT PERFORMANCE EVALUATION CRITERIA AND PROCEDURES

Grading

A = 270-300          C = 210-239
B = 240-269          D = 180-209

Participation will be rated according to the communication skills employed by the student, not by the content of the participation. Actual content of the student’s contributions will be incidental; the student’s role in the group process will be important.
REQUIRED TEXT(S) AND/OR READING(S)

Additional assigned readings are integral to your understanding of this course. These handouts will be made available at the beginning of the semester.

SELECTED BIBLIOGRAPHY includes, but is not limited to, the following:

TEXES COMPETENCIES THAT RELATE TO THIS COURSE (TEXES is the state examination required for school counselor certification.)
Competency 001 (Human Development)
The school counselor understands processes of human development and applies this knowledge to provide a developmental guidance program, including counseling services, that meets the needs of all students.
Competency 002 (Student Diversity)
The school counselor understands human diversity and applies this knowledge to ensure that the developmental guidance and counseling program is responsive to all students.
Competency 006 (Counseling)
The school counselor understands how to provide effective counseling services to individuals and small groups.

Competency 010 (Professionalism)
The school counselor understands and complies with ethical, legal, and professional standards relevant to the profession.

ATTENDANCE
Attendance and active participation are a necessary and vital part of the course. Active participation includes attending each class session, completing reading assignments prior to class, and participating in class discussions. The student is expected to attend class regularly. Absence from class and/or nonparticipation will result in grade reduction. Students are expected to attend all classes and arrive on time. In order to earn full credit for attending, students must be present at both the beginning and ending of class meetings. More than one absence will result in your final grade being reduced by 5 points. More than two absences (or more than 5 class hours missed) will result in your final grade being reduced one grade level. More than three absences will require you to repeat this course for credit. Being late to class or leaving class early will result in grade reduction. Participation includes the ability of the student to interact with the professor and peers in a professional and respectful manner.

CONDUCT AND ACADEMIC HONESTY
"All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment." (See Student's Guide Handbook, Policies and Procedures, Conduct) "Graduate students at Texas A&M University-Commerce are expected to maintain high standards of integrity and honesty in all their scholastic work.” (See Section A13.12, Academic Honesty, A&M-Commerce Procedures.)

COUN 528: Group Paper Outline

1) Literature review (minimum 10 pages):

   Does it document this as a widespread problem?

   Does it describe the key elements of the topic?

   Does it identify and describe the most important issues faced by group members?

   Does it identify solutions discovered by others?

   Does it review 10 recent journal articles, as well as books?

2) Group logistics:

   Is the duration sufficient to cover topic and allow for change?
   Is the length of sessions sufficient for number of members?
   How do you incorporate holidays into your group plan?
   If school children involved, how are sessions staggered so child does not lose time from same subject repeatedly?

3) Screening:

   When deciding whom to exclude, what are the criteria?

   When deciding whom to include, which of the following are taken into account?
   gender, cognitive ability, maturity, duration of issue, frequency of issue, intensity of issue, acceptance and/or completion of issue.

4) Group Session Plans:

   Early session identifying General Goals, is followed by session(s) identifying Individualized Goal, followed by coaching/role play/support for opportunity to transfer learning to real life--occurring in time for member to "change"

5) What distinguishes the present group counseling proposal from group guidance or group therapy?

6) Does the paper conform to the APA style guide given in class?
