Course Content

The student's work will be directed to three general areas of study: Vocal Production, Music Literacy, and Vocal Artistry/Creativity. In particular, attention will be given to Posture, Respiration, Phonation (including Registration and resonance), Diction, Song Analysis, and Interpretation.

The applied instructor selects literature and plans lessons in a logical sequence specifically designed to prepare each student to meet the student learning outcomes stated below. Thus, the literature and skills addressed in each lesson will vary according to each student's experience in performance repertoire and technical strengths and weaknesses. In practice, after assessing a student's skill and needs in the early lessons, the applied instructor often provides a more detailed overview of the semester's activities; however, this overview is specific to that student and the sequential activities are contingent upon that student's continued progress.

Repertoire Requirements

A student will study and memorize a minimum of three songs for each semester hour credit for which he/she is enrolled. Repertoire may include songs/arias in English, Italian, German, French, and Spanish, depending on the student's major, ability level, and other factors. Consideration will be given to the study of Musical Theater (i.e. "Broadway") literature, but on a limited basis.

Final Performance Exam (a.k.a. Juries)

The student will perform a final exam/ jury for the vocal faculty during final exam week. This year Final Exams will be held on May 6th and 7th from 10am-12pm and 1-4pm. The student first will perform from memory one song of his choice from his prepared repertoire list and then at least one additional selection chosen by the vocal faculty from the remaining prepared repertoire.
