Student Learning Objectives

This course will provide students with an opportunity to explore and develop skills relating to horn performance, repertoire, and pedagogy. Students will develop and maintain excellent fundamentals, and a healthy approach to horn playing while advancing their listening skills and musicianship. Through their studies in applied horn, students will be able to perform works from the standard solo, etude, and ensemble repertoire with excellent tone, rhythmic and pitch accuracy, and with informed and convincing musical expression.

Topics of instruction will include:

- The warm-up as a means of practicing excellent tone production and control
- Fundamental exercises including overtone series slurs, range development, and flexibility
- Etudes
- Solo repertoire
- Pedagogy

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Demonstrate the basics of musical performance with special attention to rhythm, tone quality, range, musical phrasing, intonation, and style.
- Demonstrate the ability to perform music from different stylistic periods.
- Demonstrate the ability to perform music in a variety of key signatures and meter signatures.
- Demonstrate the ability to perform all major and minor scales during the appropriate barrier semester.
The applied instructor selects literature and plans lessons in a logical sequence specifically designed to prepare each student to meet the stated student learning outcomes. Thus, the literature and skills addressed in each lesson will vary according to each student's experience in performance repertoire and technical strengths and weaknesses. In practice, after assessing a student's skills and needs in the early lessons, the applied instructor often provides a more detailed overview of the semester's activities; however, this overview is specific to that student and the sequential activities are contingent upon that student's continued progress.

Course description
Students will receive a minimum of thirteen, 50 minute lessons per semester and will attend a weekly studio class. Students will receive a grade based on their progress in weekly lessons, participation in studio class, an end of semester jury, attendance, and proficiency exams.

Attendance – Attendance at all lessons is expected, but 1 unexcused absence will not affect the final grade. Please communicate 24 hours in advance if you are going to miss a lesson.

Repertoire – Students are responsible for all etudes and solos assigned by the Professor during the weekly lessons. The material will be based on individual proficiency, but is designed to prepare the student to take the required barrier exam at the end of the 4th semester of study.

Grading
Grades are based on the following:
- Weekly Lessons 65% (see rubric below)
- Jury 25%
- Horn Studio 10%
- Attendance
