COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Class Presentation: Selected cases/court decisions will be studies in-depth to assist the student in gaining a better understanding of the points of the case and the court decision. Each student will present one case to the class for discussion and analysis. As part of your case presentation, you must provide one or two page synopsis of your case. The synopsis should center on the merits of the case, your agreement/disagreement and other information you felt necessary to the case. As each student presents his/her case, your fellow classmates will be required to give their input on your case. The bottom line—each of you is required to give input on the case.

When you select a case study from the book or current law, please let me know. The case selected must be related to student affairs/higher education. If you select a case outside of textbook, please provide information where case may be found so that others will not be lost seeking out your case study.

Research paper: each student will be expected to prepare a written report of 10 to 12 typewritten, double spaced pages. (APA Style) The report will focus on one legal issue (must be different topic than class presentation and will be selected by student in collaboration with instructor. Due date: April 27, 2012)

The will be one exam: (Exam May 4, 2013)
