I. Course Description

The scope and content of international finance have been fast evolving due to the deregulation of financial markets, product innovations, and technological advancements. As capital markets of the world are becoming more integrated, a solid understanding of international finance has become essential for effective corporate decision making and risk management. We will study three major areas that set international financial management apart from domestic corporate finance, namely, (i) foreign exchange and political risks, (ii) market imperfections, and (iii) expanded opportunity set. Students will be introduced to international finance by means of looking at how firms and governments inter-react with these markets. The course will emphasize the link between theory and applications.

II. Prerequisite

FIN 504, Financial Management, or consent of instructor.

III. Course Objectives

Upon the successful completion of International Business Finance, students should be able to perform the following tasks:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of mechanism and functions of the international financial environment.
2. Demonstrate an understanding of exchange rate behavior and the equilibrium theories.
3. Demonstrate an understanding of concepts and tools of exchange rate risk management for a multinational enterprise.
4. Demonstrate an understanding and show ability to measure financial decisions in a risk/return environment as related to global business.

IV. Required Course Materials

V. Recommended Reading

Wall Street Journal, Financial Times, The Economist
VI. Policies and Procedures

The student is responsible for all material covered and all information disseminated when he/she misses a class or arrives late.

Email Use

The best way to communicate with me outside of class is by email. You should expect a response to your emails within 24 hours during regular business hours on weekdays. You have to send emails from your myLeo accounts.

Exams

There will be three exams, including two midterm exams and a mandatory final exam. The exams will be closed book and closed notes. Students should bring a financial calculator to the exams. Sharing of calculators and the use of a laptop or any other electronic device will not be allowed during an exam.

There will be no makeup exams. If you have to miss an exam because of an excusable and verifiable reason, you must contact me before the exam. Failing to do so or failing to provide documentation of the reason for absence from a medical doctor or TAMU-Commerce official will result in a grade of zero on the exam. If I were to excuse you from an interim exam, the weight of the missed exam will be added to the weight of the final exam. Regardless of the excuse, if you miss two exams you will automatically fail the class.

Two Individual Short Written Reports, and One 5-minute Presentation from one of Your Written Reports

During the semester, you need to stay informed on current developments that are relevant to international finance and financial institutions. You will have to write two short reports about current news items dealing with international financial developments. These can be based on clippings from newspapers, magazines, newsletters, or professional journals. Your written reports should summarize the news item and then relate it to some concept, practice, or problem in international finance and management, including your own observations on its implications. The written report is to be typed using a 12-point font; the pages should be numbered and have 1-inch margins on all sides. It should be double-spaced and should not exceed 3 pages (including references). An unexcused late assignment will not be accepted and a zero grade will be assigned.

You will make a five-minute in-class presentation for one of your written reports. You can choose which reports to present. You will have to email me a one-page outline of your presentation at least one day before your presentation. The presentation sessions will be made available starting from the seventh class session; I will hand out a presentation sign-up sheet at the sixth class session.

Homework

End of chapter questions & problems and other questions & problems will be assigned as homework. You do not have to submit the solutions. To enhance learning, you should devote some time to these assignments. Some (but not all) of the problems on the exams will be similar to the problems in these homework assignments.

Grading

No assignment for extra credit will be given to any individual student. For grading purposes, the following weights will be assigned:
Class Participation 5%
Short Written Report I 8%
Short Written Report II 8%
Presentations 4%
Mid-term examination I 23%
Mid-term examination II 23%
Final examination 29%

and letter grades applied as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>90 – 100</td>

VIII. Other Information

You shall start studying early in the course, well before the test/exam, to give yourself a head start in learning the material. When you don’t understand course material, ask questions either in class, during office hours or by email. You will not get good grades if you wait until a week or couple of days before the test/exam to start studying.
Syllabus Addendum

Academic Integrity/Ethics:

Integrity will be stressed throughout the course. Refer to Student’s Guide Book located at for the University policy on academic honesty: www.tamu-commerce.edu/studentlife/guidebook.htm

All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conductive to a positive learning environment.

You are expected to maintain high standards of integrity and honesty while pursuing your academic goal(s). The university’s statement on academic honesty is found in the Texas A&M University-Commerce Procedures, A13.12, Academic Honesty. Academic dishonesty is defined in the following manner:

"Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, plagiarism (the appropriation or stealing of the ideas or words of another and passing them off as one’s own), cheating on exams or other course assignments, collusion (the unauthorized collaboration with others in preparing course assignments), and abuse (destruction, defacing, or removal) of resource material.”

Your grade is to reflect your work alone, and likewise, your classmates’ grades are to reflect their work alone, and not yours. Students found to have committed academic dishonesty will automatically receive a failing grade for the course and will be referred to Dean of the College of Business and Technology for possible expulsion from the program. All students enrolled in this course are required to sign and submit an Academic Honesty Policy form during the first week of the course.

Students with Disabilities:

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact:
