Course Description:

This course offers wide exposure to the linguistic, psychological, and sociocultural aspects of teaching English to speakers of other languages. The course surveys historical and current trends in the methods of teaching and evaluating ESL, language testing, and language programs. The course is also appropriate for students interested in teaching a second or foreign language.

Course Objectives:

- To improve the student's understanding of the principles applied in the teaching of a second language
- To learn different teaching methods and techniques for teaching ESL students
- To be able to use teaching materials, methods, and techniques for teaching ESL students
- To be able to recognize what materials, methods, and techniques are best for ESL students

Textbooks Required:

Larsen-Freeman, Diane. 2000 Techniques and Principles of Language Teaching,
Second Edition. New York: Oxford University Press.

Ariza, Eileen N (2006). Not for ESOL Teachers: What Every Classroom Teacher Needs to Know About Linguistically, Culturally, and Ethically Diverse Student. Boston, MA:
Pearson

Class Activities, Assessments and Outside Assignments

In-Class Presentation:

After learning and practicing several teaching methods, students will do one in-class presentation. Students will be given the option to select two methods for teaching English as a second language. The information will be taken from Larsen-Freeman. More information and handouts will be given in class. All students will be given a specific date to present, any absent student will get a zero (0). No exceptions.

Essay:

Students will receive several topics for their essay. They will write a four-six page essay. The professor will grade these papers and return them to the students. If students want to improve their grade, they will make the necessary corrections. The professor will not accept late papers. No exceptions. Students will send their papers through e-mail. More specific information will be given in class.

Outside Class Assignments:

Students are required to read and work in all assignments listed in this syllabus. Students must remember that they will be quizzed on these assignments. All written assignments are due when class begins. No exceptions.

Quizzes:

Students will have several unannounced quizzes during the semester. The quizzes come from both texts. Students should come prepared to answer questions based on class assignments. There will be no make-ups; however, to mend a bad grade or an absence, the lowest quiz grade will be dropped.

Chapter Exams:

There will be three main chapter exams during the semester. Each exam covers several chapters from each text. Though the exams contain several chapters, these exams are not comprehensive. That means that when a chapter is included in a test, that chapter will not appear in another test. The dates for these exams are given in this syllabus. There are no make-ups for these exams; therefore, any absent student will receive a zero (0) for such exam. No exceptions.

Attendance:

Coming to class is not an option. This class is very strict about attendance. Students will be allowed to be absent once. A grade will be given for attending this class. Two tardies, no more than thirty minutes each, will count as an absence. Any student more than thirty minutes late will be counted absent. No exceptions. After the first absence, absent or late students will lose points. Students will earn three points per each day they attend class. Students will be allowed to come late during the first or second hour of classes. Late students will lose points. During the third hour of class, no student will be allowed to enter this class.

In-class Participation:

This class requires active participation. Students are expected to be ready to participate in all class activities. Participation will earn three points per day. Any student who does not participate will receive no points for participation.

Final Exam:

A final exam will be given at the end of the semester. As with the other exams, the final exam covers both texts. This is not a comprehensive exam. There are no make-ups for this exam. Absent students will get a zero (0) for this exam. The exam should take no more than two hours for its completion. If a student arrives forty minutes after the exam begins, that student will not be allowed to take the exam.

Use of Electronic objects in the classroom:

Even though technology is a very large part of our daily lives, in this class, no electronic object should be on. We want to use our precious time for class discussion and for our learning experience. Please do not use any electronic devices.

Plagiarism and Dishonesty:

Plagiarism is the act of using another's work without giving proper credit. Failure to properly credit the source of an idea or words is theft. This is unethical and will not be tolerated in this class. Please take it seriously. Students who plagiarize in this class will be seriously penalized. Among other penalties, students who plagiarize could be expelled from the university.

Use of e-mail:

Students should use good manners while addressing the professor by e-mail. Please know that using capital or bold letters is like yelling to your audience. In this case, your audience will be your professor. Please do not use any capital or bold letters in your e-mails.

When you send e-mails, please include your name and the name of the class you are taking. The professor will try to respond within 48 hours. If you need immediate assistance, please call the main office.

TExEs:

Any student who is planning to teach English, Spanish, or English as a Second Language in Texas public schools must pass the required exams for his/her teacher certification. The Department of Literature and Languages gives approval to take the content area exams. All exams are subjected to the policies required by law. If you need more information in this matter, please contact your advisor or visit this website: <http://www.tamu-commerce.edu/litlang>
