Regarding the textbooks: Students are responsible for procuring the course textbooks before the first class meeting. Those who are unable to do so should not approach the Instructor to ask for any special consideration. Also, the correct editions of the textbooks must be acquired, as the readings quizzes are based upon the editions actually being used, and the use of older editions or different books may—and in many cases will—result in an inability to answer quiz questions properly and contribute adequately to class discussions.

Course Description:
The purpose of this University Studies course is to draw students into a deeper investigation of particular themes in United States history relating to division and conflict, and how Americans have variously surmounted—or just as often failed to surmount—obstacles which separate people from one another. The purpose of this course is to present a survey of American Indian history from the Pre-Columbian period to the present, highlighting the processes by which Europeans and Euro-Americans dispossessed the various Indian nations of their land and identities, as well as the Indians’ efforts to adapt to rapidly changing circumstances and reclaim identity. The dynamics of contact, conquest, interrelationship, accommodation, assimilation, and resistance is ongoing, and will be examined from both Indian and non-Indian perspectives (though far greater weight is given to the former).

Student Learning Outcomes:
1. Students will be able to form substantive and evidence-driven arguments to propose solutions to problems or explain phenomena.
2. Student communication will follow conventions of grammar and syntax appropriate to the audience, purpose and message.
3. Students will demonstrate awareness of societal and/or civic issues.
4. Students will be able to understand their role in their own education.
COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Instructional / Methods / Activities Assessments
This course consists of a series of activities and assessments to assist students in achieving the outcomes/objectives for the course and instructional units/modules. Each week students will work on various combinations of readings, discussions, and research.

Student Responsibility Sheet

Student Learning Outcome no. 4:
The Student Responsibility Sheet consists of a series of questions about the Instructor and the course syllabus that must be filled out and submitted to the Instructor no later than Jan. 29. The form can be downloaded from the eCollege course site, or from the History Department homepage.

Attendance & Participation: (100 pts., 25% of course grade)

Student Learning Outcomes nos. 1, 2, & 3:
Participation in class discussions is intended to allow students to discuss substantively issues pertaining to the topics at hand, and will serve to inform the Instructor about how well students are absorbing course content. Facility in oral communication will thus be developed through these activities. Regular attendance to class is mandatory, and students intending to perform well in this aspect of the course must come to each class meeting prepared to discuss the day's subjects and ask pertinent questions about the material. Routine absences and/or distracting behavior will negatively impact the participation grade.

Readings Quizzes: (100 pts., 25% of course grade)

Student Learning Outcomes nos. 1, 2, & 3:
The readings quizzes are designed to test students’ comprehension of the readings for each particular day a quiz is administered, testing the depth of their knowledge of the topic(s) at hand and their analytical skills. Administration will be random, and each quiz will take up no more than 10 minutes of class time at the beginning of each class period. Grading will be on a 0-10 point scale for each quiz, with a running average maintained through the semester that will be adjusted to a score from 0-100 at the end of the semester.

Final Exam: (100 pts., 25% of course grade)

Student Learning Outcomes nos. 1, 2, & 3:
The Final Exam, to be administered via eCollege, will be an open-book examination wherein students will be required to write substantive analytical essays in response to a series of questions within a two-hour time period. Students will be required to utilize their absorption of the course content, supplemented by their use of the course texts as evidentiary support, in order to compose fulsome responses to questions that test their understanding of the course content.

Research Paper: (100 pts., 25% of course grade)

Student Learning Outcomes nos. 1, 2, & 3:
The research paper is designed to usher students into a deeper exploration of aspects of American Indian history through the use of the course texts and the consultation of outside sources in the form of scholarly books and articles (see below). Students will gain basic instruction in the art of researching and writing academic essays.
Students will undertake their projects based upon a two-part blind selection process, in which they will draw the name of a tribe, followed by a time period (1600-1800, 1800-1900, or 1900-Present). Students will then conduct research on the general history of the tribe they've selected, with particular attention paid to the time period selected, and write a paper that features a survey of that tribal history and concentrates upon the selected time period, with a focus on a major challenge faced by that tribe and how that challenge was met and resolved (positively or negatively).

The paper must conform to the following physical parameters:

Processed using MS Word or WordPerfect in 12 pt. Times New Roman font
1-inch margins all around, and double-spaced text
8-10 pages in length (not including the bibliography)
All sources must be cited using in-text (parenthetical) citation
There must be a bibliography of works cited at the end of the paper
All pages must be numbered

Failure to meet most or all of the above requirements will result in an automatic F for the assignment. Failure to do the assignment at all will result in an F for the course.

Concerning Turnitin
All students will be required to submit the final draft of their paper to an eCollege dropbox, which will automatically run it through Turnitin (www.turnitin.com), a web-based plagiarism detection program. It scours the Worldwide Web and its database of all submissions (over 135 million so far) for evidence of “lifted” material indicative of plagiarism. It generates a report that notes the percentage of material that appears in other places, and highlights all examples along with the sources from which they came. I do not employ this service based on a prior assumption of guilt or nefariousness on the student's part, but rather as an aid to students learning how to avoid committing overt and incidental plagiarism, and students are asked to trust me to know how to use this service wisely and without prejudice. Please see Turnitin’s FAQ page for answers to how the service works, after which you may consult with me for further information and assurances.

COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT

Interaction with Instructor Statement:
Office hours are given at the top of this syllabus, and are posted outside of my door. Arrangements can be made if a student cannot meet with me during regular office hours for consultations. Email is the most reliable method of reaching me outside of my office. Expect a reply within 24 to 36 hours. Students may also be able to reach me by phone during office hours. In the event that a student leaves a voicemail, do not leave a callback number, but rather send an email or wait to see me during office hours.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Academic Honesty
It is the policy of the University, the History Department, and the instructor that no form of plagiarism or cheating will be tolerated. Plagiarism is defined as the deliberate use of another’s work and claiming it as one’s own. This means ideas as well as text, whether paraphrased or presented verbatim (word-for-word). You are neither required nor expected to come up with original ideas about, or new interpretations of, American history. It is more important for students to understand why events unfolded in the ways they did, and what other scholars have said and written about them, so use proper citation in papers where appropriate (see paper assignment above). However, anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will automatically fail the assignment in question, may summarily fail the course, and could be subject to disciplinary action by the University.
Likewise, no element of the course grade is negotiable or optional, meaning that failure to take the exams or to submit the research paper in the absence of compelling, documented circumstances will result in automatic failure of the course. The instructor’s evaluative judgment of tests and examinations is final, and will not be subject to revision except in cases of mathematical error.
Class Decorum

All students must show respect toward the Instructor and the Instructor’s syllabus, presentations, assignments, and point of view. Students should also respect each others’ differences. If the Instructor determines that a student is not being respectful toward other students or the Instructor, or is otherwise behaving in an inappropriate manner, it is the Instructor’s prerogative to remove the student from the class either temporarily or permanently, as the case requires.

Note: Failure to comply with any of the Instructor’s policies will result in immediate deregistration from the course.

University Specific Procedures:

A&M-Commerce will comply in the classroom, and in online courses, with all federal and state laws prohibiting discrimination and related retaliation on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age, genetic information or veteran status. Further, an environment free from discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression will be maintained.

ADA Statement

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact:
