Required Textbook

Criminological Theory, 6/E Franklin P. Williams, III and Marilyn D. McShane
ISBN-10: 0132987023 •

Course Overview

This course is designed to explore crime, its context, and especially its causes. First, a foundation will be provided concerning the basic concepts of crime, law, and criminology. Next, theories of crime causation will be explored. The etiology or causes of crime are at the heart of this course, with the theories acting as pillars in the class structure. Next, crime typologies will be examined, or the different kinds of crimes most prevalent in our society. Lastly, we will gain an overview of the criminal justice system itself. The intent of this format is to present a balanced perspective on the field of criminology for new students to the discipline. Attention will also be directed to assure inclusion of issues concerning race, gender, and class, which are often overlooked.

Student Learning Objectives

Upon completion of this course, student will have knowledge and understanding of course objectives.

1. The student will demonstrate an understanding of theoretical criminology, crime and deviance, and the social context of crime.
2. The student will demonstrate an understanding of crime causation.
3. The student will demonstrate an understanding of future issues and trends related to criminology.
PLEASE NOTE

Access to eCollege for this course may be delayed due to late changes in the instructor. This syllabus may be amended during the first two weeks of the semester.

Instructional Methods

The method of instruction for this course will be a combination of class notes, power point presentations, discussions, and group activities. The specific activities used to engage students in mastering chapter material will be discussion board participation, five unit exams and a research paper as assigned.

Assignments

Exams: You will have 5 exams during the course (each exam is worth 100 points). The exams, in general, will not be cumulative, however some of the material presented later in the course builds on topics previously discussed. Exams are to be taken on the date listed on the syllabus. Each examination will consist of multiple choice, fill-in-the blanks, true/false and short essay questions. You may prepare for these exams by reviewing reading assignments, class notes and discussion questions.

Online Discussions: We are going to integrate most of our learning into online eCollege discussion. Please, make sure you are familiar with all aspects of eCollege. There is an online tutorial if there is something you do not understand. Not understanding eCollege is not an acceptable excuse for late assignments. Start now getting familiar with it.

Research Paper: The research paper will be a ten page paper due at the end of the semester. It is not to be an argumentative or opinion paper, but a research paper. This paper must be written based on a discussion and analysis of a course related issue. Please, use APA format writing style for this paper. The paper will be graded on content as well as exposition. There will be a 20 point penalty for late submission.

You are encouraged to monitor your grades throughout the semester via the grade book in eCollege. If you turn in an assignment and do not receive a grade or have a question about the grading, I need to know immediately. I will not entertain any disputes later than one week after the grades are posted.

Overall, your final grade (based on a total of 500 points) will be calculated as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Assignment</th>
<th>Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Exams 5 @ 100 pts each</td>
<td>500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Discussion Questions 15 @ 10 pts each</td>

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

- Internet access/connection – high speed recommended (not dial-up)
- Word Processor (i.e. MS Word or Word Perfect)

Additionally, the following hardware and software are necessary to use eCollege:
Our campus is optimized to work in a Microsoft Windows environment. This means our courses work best if you are using a Windows operating system (XP or newer) and a recent version of Microsoft Internet Explorer (6.0, 7.0, or 8.0).
Your courses will also work with Macintosh OS X along with a recent version of Safari 2.0 or better. Along with Internet Explorer and Safari, eCollege also supports the Firefox browser (3.0) on both Windows and Mac operating systems.
It is strongly recommended that you perform a “Browser Test” prior to the start of your course. To launch a browser test, login in to eCollege, click on the ‘myCourses’ tab, and then select the “Browser Test” link under Support Services.

ACCESS AND NAVIGATION

eCollege Access and Log in Information:

This course will be conducted solely using eCollege, the Learning Management System used by Texas A&M University-Commerce. To get started with the course, go to: https://leo.tamuc.edu/login.aspx. You will need your CWID and password to log in to the course. If you do not know your CWID or have forgotten your password, contact Technology Services at 903.468.6000 or helpdesk@tamuc.edu.

COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT

Interaction with Instructor Statement:

In this course we will use eCollege to facilitate communication between you and myself. I will do my best to respond to emails within one business day and I will grade your assignments within two weeks of the due date. Because I do not office on campus, I do not have set office hours. I want to always be available to you for questions or problems but please contact me for an appointment.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES
Make-up Policy

Any make-up opportunities are allowed only at the discretion of the instructor and immediate notification from the student is imperative. Obviously, missed attendance cannot be made up at a later date.

Note: University policy does allow excused absences in certain situations such as: school sponsored events, jury duty, and military service (consult the university catalog for all rules and procedures). All of these excuses require proper documentation. Family emergencies, illnesses, births, deaths, incarceration or other events and calamities are NOT excused absences and decisions regarding such absences are left to my discretion.

Academic Integrity and Honesty

I take plagiarism and other forms of cheating very seriously. All the work you do in this course is to be your own. I encourage you to study with friends, but be sure that everything you turn in is your own, original work. Regarding references, anytime you use someone else’s work and do not accompany it with a proper citation to the author, you have committed plagiarism regardless of whether or not you intended to do so. It is also inappropriate to use your own work for multiple classes and any such actions will be treated just like plagiarism. Do not copy anything off the internet, out of books/articles, from friends, or from any other source or person. This includes direct cutting-and-pasting, summarizing or quoting without citing, and changing the original wording just enough so that you think you can pass it off as your own. If I find that you have engaged in plagiarism, you will receive an F in the entire course and I reserve the right to take further disciplinary action(s) at the university level. Do Not Do It!

Students with Disabilities:

I am committed to assisting students with documented disabilities to succeed in this course. The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact:

Statement on Student Behavior
As stated in the student handbook: “All students enrolled at the university shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment.” (See Student Guide Handbook, Policies and Procedures, Conduct, for more information)

COURSE OUTLINE / CALENDAR

Schedule:
This schedule is tentative and I reserve the right to modify it, with notice, as needed during the semester. We will cover the material in the order it appears in your text. My goal is to cover one chapter per week but I am also aware that some concepts are more difficult than others. For this reason I am keeping this schedule flexible to accommodate our needs as they arise. All alterations to the schedule will be announced in class and it is your responsibility to be aware of these changes. Important dates are listed below:

Week One: Read Chapters One and Two and submit via email to janamiller85@gmail.com a one page paper outlining your understanding of how the Classical Theory of Criminology aided in the evolution of the criminal justice system we utilize today. This will be graded as your first discussion question. Future assignments will be posted on eCollege, please check frequently.

COURSE OUTLINE / CALENDAR

Guidelines for Course Assignment
In this course, you are expected to follow these guidelines for all written assignments. This would help guide you towards format and clarity. To receive full credit in every assignment students must follow the following standards:

1. All graded assignments must be typed
2. All typed assignments must be double spaced
3. All typed assignments must be in Times New Roman 12 point font.
4. All typed assignments must have a standard format of a 1” each margin on the left and right sides with a .5” setting for the bottom and top. The margin set up is found under the page setup on your Word menu.
5. All assignments must have a standard header inserted into the document that contains your complete name, class, CRN, Professor’s full name, assignment date, and assignment name.
6. Please, include a cover page for the research paper submitted to your Professor (not included in page count)
7. You may consult APA style manual located in reference section at the Gee Library

Please Note: There will be weekly Homework/Discussion Questions via eCollege

What deadlines must I meet? Your final paper deadline for CJ-330 is rigid. I suggest you choose a paper topic and consult with me by January 27, 2014. Have introduction, literature review done by February 17, 2014. Rough draft should be completed by March 31, 2014. These are suggested deadlines for timing purposes. The individual sections are not required to be submitted and will not be graded. I am always willing to read and provide feedback. Your final paper should be submitted by April 21, 2014.
