   This course is designed to provide an overview of the social and biological principles of sustainability. An emphasis will also be placed on understanding on the education, health, population dynamics, culture, agriculture, food security, and natural resources aspects of sustainability.

III. Student Learning Objectives
   To understand sustainability concepts, how to apply them, and their implications.
   To understand the mechanisms of society accepting or resisting sustainability.
   To develop a reading tradition.
   To develop communication skills and clarity to present ideas and explain them in public.

IV. Learning strategies
   Lectures
   Discussions and Talks
   Reading assignments to be discussed in class
   Analysis of Case Study Samples
   Individual work, analysis of free reading
   Homework
   Audiovisual projections

V. Assumptions, Expectations, Philosophy
   University students are a select group of students soon to be professionals.
   Instructors can have high expectations of student performance.
   Demanding courses benefit students more than easy courses.
   Assignments are due on time unless you have made a prior arrangement with me (only granted for unusual or extenuating circumstances and in case of health issues proper medical excuse is required.
   Come to class prepared, having read and thought about the assigned readings; course materials are meant to be studied, not merely read. Actively participate in class discussions; ask questions.

In university, a lot of your learning will occur outside of the classroom, during your own research, and in formal and informal interactions with your peers—both here and at meetings, correspondence, etc. Therefore, I expect you to take full advantage of ALL learning opportunities, including seminars and invited speakers. Reading and assimilating information is a critical part of your current and continuing education. This will help you become a better writer, a more rounded individual, and expose you to subjects outside of your immediate knowledge.

VII. Course Requirement and Evaluation Method

Attendance and punctuality is required and non-negotiable. Homework, quizzes, exams, and term paper are required. Activities that distract surrounding people are inconsiderate and disrespectful. Activities such as texting, emailing, browsing or using cellular phones are prohibited.

We encourage student contribution to the overall progress of the group. We encourage interactive participation. It is necessary that students have a professional and ethic behavior through the entire course.
Lectures are a group activity, and so it requires social consideration and respect amongst members of the group, teachers and professors.

Grade basis:
2 tests, including final (200 points)
Research project (50 points)
5 Assignments (50 points)
5 Quizzes (50 points)
Total 350 points

Penalty enforcement (I reserve the right to adjust your grade for violation of the minimum expectations).
Make-up exams will only be given if arrangements are made with the instructor before missing the scheduled exam. A documented excuse will be required. Otherwise, missing exams will be counted as zeroes in the overall grade computation.

Grading Scale: The following scale is adhered to strictly.
90.0 – 100% = A
80.0 - 89.9% = B
70.0 - 79.9% = C
60.0 – 69.9% = D
<60.0% = F
