Course Description
This course prepares prospective educational leaders to administer various school programs for diverse student populations. Programs addressed include special education, gifted education, bilingual education, early childhood, school safety, career and technology education, English language learners, counseling, and alternative education. The course emphasizes the leadership that will insure all students receive quality, flexible instructional services that meet individual student needs.

Course Overview
The purpose of this course is to prepare students to administer programs for special pupil populations. Emphasis will be given to basic concepts, issues, regulations, problems and procedures in the management of special and compensatory education as well as NCLB, gifted and talented, Title I, migrant education, bilingual/ESL programs, early childhood education, counseling programs, vocational-technical and career education, and alternative and JAEP schools. Also included will be state and federal legislation and court decisions pertaining to special pupil populations and career and technology education.

Course Objectives

1. Respond appropriately to the diverse needs of individuals within the school and the community;

2. Implement special programs to ensure that all students' individual needs are met through quality, flexible instructional programs and services;

3. Demonstrate knowledge of the components and legal requirements of the various special programs available in public schools;

4. Demonstrate knowledge of the assessment, referral and legal guidelines that direct the delivery of special programs; and

5. Provide effective leadership for staff and parents in the administration of special programs.

Please refer to our EDAD 508 eCollege course home page as we progress through the semester for particular assignment instructions and information. Each weekly agenda throughout the semester will provide you with easy to follow, step-by-step instructions. Each weekly agenda includes audio/video presentations and links to reading material to complement course content and assignments. The reading requirements for this course are manageable as long as you begin reviewing material in a timely manner.

Communication with Instructor and Classmates
In order to minimize confusion and repetition, I would like to communicate though personal email as little as possible. Therefore, you will have access to the Virtual Office in eCollege where you can post questions and review responses to questions that pertain to course information as we progress through the semester. The Virtual Office link is located on the upper left side of our EDAD 508 eCollege course home page. While you are welcome to email me in reference to personal matters, I prefer that you ask non-confidential questions through the Virtual Office. If you would prefer to correspond via the telephone, my number is at the top of this document. Prior to asking a question, please quickly review previous responses within the Virtual Office as your question may already have been addressed. You are also welcome to respond to a classmate's questions if you can accurately address the issue.

Please periodically review (1) updated announcements within the EDAD 508 eCollege course home page for updated information and (2) your MyLeo email account in case I need to send you a confidential message. Although I will reply to emails from non-university email accounts, I will only send original messages to MyLeo email accounts.

Evaluation Methods and Guidelines for Assignments
Assignments that you complete for this course should not have been used in other courses. You must complete all assignments with the utmost attention to all of the course requirements to earn an A in this course.

Grading Rubric: A: 90-100%   B: 80-89%   C: 70-79%   D: 60-69%   F: Below 60%

Reflections
You will be provided with reflection questions to answer by specified due dates (see course calendar). Reflection responses should be written in essay format (please avoid outlines and simple listings). Utilize the resource/reading list that complements each reflection assignment, completely answer questions and write responses in your own words (refer to student handbook regarding plagiarism). Please submit your reflection assignment through our eCollege course dropbox feature. You will see a www.turnit.com percentage when you submit a reflection assignment through the dropbox. While you want a low turnitin percentage figure (below 35%), you do not need to worry about your turnitin percentage unless I notify you via the dropbox.

Discussion Forums

Regarding the actual discussion forums this semester, I would like for you to respond to the question or activity that is specifically designated for each discussion forum activity. Utilize the resource/reading list that complements each discussion forum and create an original posting by the Second Day of Each Module.

I would then like for you to interact and provide feedback to at least two of your classmates' original discussion forum posts. Your contribution to the discussion forums will be graded for quality not quantity, timeliness of your contributions, and a detailed analysis of linking together theory to application via critical thinking evident within your discussions. Each discussion forum will be open until Midnight the Last Day of the Module.

	Earned Point Total: /10

Participation, Attendance, Professionalism
Student participation (e.g. discussion forums) is a critical element of the course structure. Students are expected to engage in the scholarly discourse of the scheduled subject matter. Students are expected to respect (not necessarily agree with) opinions of classmates.

Academic Honesty
Please see the TAMU-C Graduate Catalog and the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association for a discussion of academic honesty. Academic honesty is especially important when citing/quoting sources in research papers and assignments. Students are responsible for reading this material and becoming familiar with the conventions for acknowledging sources of information. Conduct that violates generally accepted standards of academic honesty is defined as academic dishonesty, which includes, but is not limited to plagiarism (the appropriation or stealing of ideas or words of another and passing them off as one's own), cheating on exams or other course assignments, collusion (the unauthorized collaboration with others in preparing course assignments) and abuse (destruction, defacing, or removal) of resource materials (TAMU-C Graduate Catalog).* Consequences for academic dishonesty range from failing a specific assignment to expulsion from the University.

Student Conduct
All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment (see TAMU-C Student Guide Handbook, Policies and Procedures, Conduct).

Dropping the Class
If you need to adjust your schedule by dropping this course, please follow university procedures to officially drop the class. If you fail to officially drop the class, a failing grade shall be assigned at the end of the course. Incompletes: Per university policy, "A Plan for Completing the Grade of X" Requests are limited to "circumstances beyond student's control which prevented the student from attending classes during Finals Week or the preceding three weeks" (Policy A 12.07, 1998). The extension can not exceed one semester. Failure to fulfill plan requirements within the specified time will result in an F.

Students with Disabilities
The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact: StudentDisabilityServices@tamu-commerce.edu
