COURSE INFORMATION

Materials – Textbooks, Readings, Supplementary Readings:

Textbook(s) Required:

Course Description:
This course is designed to help doctoral students within higher education become informed consumers of research and begin the process of producing scientific research. This course covers broad, general foundational knowledge of quantitative and qualitative research design for the social sciences. Students will gain practical knowledge of research and will learn how to become informed consumers of peer reviewed research. A literature review assignment will help students gather research related to a content area of their choosing. A research proposal assignment will give students experience writing a research proposal in preparation for writing a dissertation. A mid-term and final exam will test students’ knowledge of important topics related to research methodology.

Student Learning Outcomes:
- The student will come away with broad knowledge of research principles, terms, and methodology. Knowledge will be based on a mid-term and final exam.
The student will learn how to collect, critique, and interpret peer reviewed research through the creation of a literature review.

The student will begin to consider possible dissertation topics through the creation of a research proposal.

The student will develop their knowledge through in-class discussions and projects.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Instructional / Methods / Activities Assessments

Round Robin Article Discussions

The second and fourth week of the month will be a round robin presentation of a research article that pertains to your organization or theory interest. Each student will have five (5) minutes to present the six factors of an article literature review, comment on findings, and field questions from the group. Each presenter will supply a handout with the six points of the article and brief narrative write-up (about one to two sentences).

The six points to include in the hand out, for higher education research articles, are:
Population, N, institution, instrument, data analysis, and results.

Reading Logs (On-line journals)

- Write a two-page summary (approximately 500 words) for each assigned reading chapter.
- Post the article summaries into the Journal section of eCollege. Article summaries are posted under the Journal section because the reading and processing of ideas is a personal and contemplative experience. Each of the assigned readings deserves your time and calm, reflective thought. As doctoral students, the thoughtful processing of ideas is your main goal as you prepare to write a dissertation. Please enjoy this journaling process as you read and absorb the content.
- The Best text requires only one three-page write-up of the six chapters.

Exams

The mid-term and final exams are cumulative and based off of the Babbie textbook. A non-credit quiz will be given at the end of most classes. The questions on these quizzes will be used on the mid-term and final exams.

Literature Review Project

The literature review project will help you familiarize yourself with a higher education research topic of your choosing. Your research topic may be within any area of higher education. The immediate goal of this project is to give you experience locating and analyzing peer reviewed research articles on a topic of your choosing. The broader goal of this assignment is to introduce you to the process of creating a thorough Chapter 2 for a dissertation.

The first part of the assignment is to gather ten articles (8 of which must be from a refereed journal) that all relate to one topic within higher education. All articles must be thoroughly read and understood so an informative annotated bibliography may be produced. The second part of the assignment is to produce a typology of the ten articles. An 8-page paper will then be written that synthesizes the articles into a mini-literature review. This final write-up will be part of the second project: a research proposal.
Research Proposal Project
This course assigns a proposal project in which you will develop a 12 to 15-page paper that will take the shape of a dissertation proposal. This project is essentially a dissertation Chapter 1. The purpose of this project is to help the student think about research problems and their connections to the various methodological issues that we will study. This course will also help you to begin to consider a theory with which to analyze content.

An initial draft will be the outline for this proposal project. In the final draft, you will address ideas about studying your topic both qualitatively and quantitatively. At the end of the semester you will have a proposal defense presentation in front of the class. This presentation will be timed and will last between 8 to 10 minutes. I will provide a template for the presentation.

Attendance Policy
Class attendance is an integral part of the educational process. Students who miss class miss out on the dialectic process of exchanging ideas with the instructor and colleagues. Two excused absences will not affect a student’s grade. The third absence will result in a loss of 10% of the total grade. Four absences will result in a failing grade for the course.
Participation
Five percent of the total course grade is dependent on individual students’ class participation. Every student is expected to contribute to class discussion every class period.

Writing Requirements
All papers are to follow APA format guidelines. Begin papers with an APA title page. Font is to be 12 point, New Times Roman, double spaced. Normal margins: one inch left, right, top, and bottom. Secure the paper with one staple in the top left corner. No folders please. Written assignments will be graded according to the following criteria:

- Completeness of response to the assignment: 50% of grade
- Organization and coherence: 30% of grade
- Appropriate grammar, punctuation, spelling: 15% of grade
- Use of disciplinary format and citation style: Paper displays correct use of student’s disciplinary format and citation style (APA, 6th Edition) for papers submitted for presentation or publication (5% of grade). Non-cited statements within a paper will result in a loss of points in accordance with the 5% earned for APA format and citation.

Grading
- Exams: (30%)
  - Mid-term (10%)
  - Final (20%)
- Literature Review: (20%)
  - Proposal (2%)
  - Paper (18%)
- Research Proposal: (25%)
  - Proposal (2%)
  - Paper (18%)
  - Presentation (5%)
- Chapter Summary Journals (10%)
- Round-Robin Write-ups (5%)
- Attendance/Participation (10%)

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

Some course assignments and internet-based research is required in this course. A computer, smart phone, or tablet with Internet access will be needed to complete some assignments. A wireless connection is available to students on campus. Computers are available for student use in the Gee Library, campus, and UCD computer labs. For more information concerning library or campus computer labs, visit http://www.tamu-commerce.edu/library/

COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Respect Differing Views
As with all graduate courses, this course deals with ideas. Please be respectful of individuals with ideas and beliefs that differ from your own. If you disagree with someone then ask them why they believe as they do, and then listen to the answer. People can have complex reasoning for what is seen as, on the surface, a simple idea. Only civil and even-tempered discussions will be permitted in class.

Academic Honesty
Plagiarism within an assignment will result in a failing grade for that assignment. I expect all assignments for this course to be original works produced specifically for this course. At the instructor’s discretion, if the plagiarism may have been accidental, an assignment may be redone for a maximum grade of 80% of the original total. Work produced, whether in part or in whole, from assignments for other courses will not be accepted for credit.

Technology Use
Personal use of computers, cell phones, or tablets is not permitted during the class session.

Late Assignments
An electronic or hard copy of each assignment is due at the beginning of class. Electronic copies must be emailed to my TAMU email address. Hard copies will be handed in at the beginning of class. Late assignments will lose one letter grade (10%) per day late. The measurement of days ends at 11:59pm the following day of class. A new day begins at Midnight (12 am) and continues to 11:59 pm. Late assignments may be turned in via email.

Examination Policy
Exams are timed and closed book.

Religious Holidays Policy
Reasonable accommodation will be given to students who require class absences because of religious holidays. However, the attendance policy is still in effect.

Writing Center
Students are encouraged to visit the A&M-Commerce Writing Center for writing assistance. Also, I am available to help with the writing process during office hours and by appointment.
