COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Instructional / Methods / Activities Assessments

This web-based course relies heavily on written responses, interaction, and discussion. It is problem-based and inquiry oriented. Learning in this course will take place as a result of online discussion boards, lectures/power-point presentations, readings and concentrated study, and participation in intensive group learning exercises in online venues.

Assignments include a series of written responses to readings and online discussions. The readings cannot be neglected. It is important that you set aside time to read and digest the readings before you write or participate in discussion boards.

A wide variety of instructional methods will be used to provide students with meaningful learning experiences. Some of these may include focused discussions, written reflections, problem-solving activities, case-studies, independent research, and the direct teaching model.

Assignment Submission Format

All written assignments must be presented in APA Style (6th Edition) format. It is the student’s responsibility to become familiar with APA.

Projects

Student Learning Outcomes: 1-4

Assessment Method: Assignments will include individual and group projects.
Threaded Discussions
Each student is expected to participate through E-College, complete all reading and written assignments on time, and actively engage in class by closely connecting class topics and discussions to textbook and other readings. Participate online at least two weekdays each week by responding to prompts and responding (posting) to the answers of others. Participate in endeavors with the goal of contributing meaningfully and implementing higher order thinking skills. You cannot receive participations points if you are not contributing to the class discussion. To earn participation points, you must discuss and apply knowledge of the readings.

You should read, analyze, and respond to the issues of the week/questions and comments from me and the other members of the class. You are required to actively participate in our classroom discussions and online. You must do more than complete assignments; you must demonstrate your regular reading of others’ responses. I am looking for evidence that you are an active participant in the learning experience. This can be done by relating real world experiences to the discussions or summaries, building on other’s comments with alternative solutions, and pointing out problems or adding another dimension to the discussion. Simply stating your agreement or providing a one sentence response does not fall within these parameters. Responses should be substantial.

The discussion forums are related to the readings, external resources, and activities. Upon completion or near completion of the assigned readings and activities, you are expected to engage in an ongoing discussion/debate with your learning community peers. Your contributions to the discussion forums will be graded for quality and timeliness of your contributions.

Student Learning Outcomes: 1-4

Assessment Method: Class participation will be determined by the professor. Each online forum will be graded using the Discussion Forum Rubric found in Doc Sharing.

Reflections:

Student Learning Outcomes: 1-4

Assessment Method: Reflections will be based on reading assignments and will be graded using the Reflections Rubric found in Doc Sharing.

Exams:

Student Learning Outcomes: 1-4

Assessment Method: The examinations will be comprised of essay questions that indicate your application of the knowledge you gain from the course.

The student will offer a detailed and specific “plan of action” to address each of these identified issues. The four issues chosen can be from the student’s own research and/or the interview of classmates or his/her self. Sources are to be identified as per APA!

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures

Examination Policy

Questions will require analysis and synthesis expecting the student to formulate answers demonstrating their ability to apply knowledge.

Assignment Policy

Project due dates are posted in eCollege along with instructions for each project. All projects should be submitted to the Dropbox and saved as a doc file unless specified otherwise.

Late Work

Late work will not be accepted in the course, so it is important to submit assignments early enough so should there be complications, there may be options to make other arrangements. However, previous experience has shown that submitting assignments at a time very close to the submission deadline (last minute) opens one up to the possibility of a late submission should technical issues arise. Late submissions due to technical issues that result from the student’s end do not qualify as an excuse for late submission. So submit early and be safe!

Incompletes

An incomplete will not be available for this course.
Graduate Online Course Attendance Policy

A major component of this course is online interaction with peers and the instructor. Each class member is expected to participate fully in online discussions, projects, journaling etc. each week of the course. For this course, a week of instruction is Monday through Sunday. Expectations for attendance online will be posted. Learning will be segmented into weeks or units. Presentations and assignments will be available to students and then close on established dates. Go beyond the due date and the system will not allow for assignment submission. To be successful, it is important to stay on schedule with the class agenda.
