ASSIGNMENTS

- Students will spend a minimum of CACREP=300 hours (Approximately 20 hours/week) at the field experience site, with documentation of such on a Record of Hours Form. The 600 clock-hour total (300 split) for supervised experience must include a minimum of 240 hours (120 split) of direct service work with clientele appropriate to the community, school, or student affairs program emphasis area. On-campus class meetings will be arranged by the instructor of record to meet the instructional needs of the section to which the student is assigned (depending on size of class). A schedule of these meeting times will be published by the instructor of record (see course calendar- changes could be made depending on the size of the class). Individual supervision sessions will occur at the discretion of the instructor of record.
- Students will negotiate a Field Experience Contract and an Emergency Contract with their on-site supervisors. This contract constitutes an agreement between the student, field supervisor and instructor of record and specifies the student's activities, hours, and supervision arrangements.

- 3. Class Meeting: Attendance is mandatory. Weekly Participation and Reading in a 1 hour class plus 1.5 hour group supervision (& 1 hour of on-site supervision). Active and appropriate participation in class. Participation includes constructively offering and receiving feedback from instructor and peers, as well as willingly interacting in any group assignment or discussion. Missing more than 1 class will result in a failing grade. If you have an issue with this departmental policy than please drop the course and take it during another semester.

Weekly interaction with an average of one hour per week of individual and/or triadic supervision, throughout the internship (performed by the on-site supervisor).

An average of 1.5 hours per week of group supervision provided on a regular schedule throughout the internship (performed by the faculty member).

- 4. The student will keep a Weekly Activity Log that will document a cumulative record of hours including:
 - a. direct on-site contact hours
 - b. on-site individual supervision
 - c. on-site group supervision with other interns
 - d. on-campus group supervision
 - e. indirect hours on site (excluding supervision)The activity log will also include brief descriptions of the student's on-site activities and reactions. This will be turned in at mid-term and final for review (instructor reserves the right to request this log at any point to verify hours).
- 5. Case Study: Students will develop a comprehensive written case study that will include a general idea of how change occurs applied to an individual case, the development of a treatment plan incorporating diagnostic inferences as well as intervention strategies (include rationale for intervention strategies). Internship I and II will have slightly different expectations reflecting developmental differences. Students will present this case study orally to the class and submit a written copy of the Case Study to the instructor. Use the Jongsma texts as a guideline to construct this.
- 6. Two audio/video recordings with Transcripts. Students will transcribe an 8-10 minute section of two of their best recorded counseling sessions. Of this 8-10 minute transcription, there should be at least 10 interactions transcribed. For each transcript, students will include a summary of client statements, verbatim counselor response, and alternate counselor response (for each statement), and discussion of counselor self-awareness (what were you thinking or feeling when you made the statement, countertransference issues, etc.).
- 7. A Selected Number of Audio/Video Recordings with a Typed Analysis: Students will bring 3-5 audio/video recordings with a typed analysis to group supervision. Recordings that are not clear will be returned to the student without credit. BE SURE THE RECORDING IS CLEAR AND AUDIBLE! During group supervision, students need to be prepared to provide each other with constructive feedback. Your Field Supervisor will give you direction on case management; your instructor will be emphasizing your skills, interventions, and conceptual understandings of your clients. There will also be a strong emphasis on "you" in relationship to the therapeutic relationship. Refresh yourself concerning the aim of Supervision, if you have not already done so, and be prepared to engage in meaningful interaction. Please remind each other and yourself to destroy all recordings before the semester ends.

Demographics: SB is a 15 year-old Asian American male who is in 9th grade. He is the youngest of four children and lives with both biological parents.

Presenting problem: SB was referred by his teacher. He is currently failing science and language arts and has been referred to the principal for disruptive behavior.

Areas of concern: SB appears to have low self-esteem and few friends. He does not appear to have support for his schoolwork at home. His parents do not speak English well and are not very involved with his school responsibilities.

Interventions/techniques: The counselor used reflective listening, open-ended questions, paraphrasing, clarifying, and summarizing. Goal setting was also utilized. A homework assignment was given.

Self-evaluation: SB seemed more comfortable today with my approach. I think that I was more comfortable as well. I noticed when I transcribed my tape that I asked several closed-ended questions and did too much of the talking. It seems like I did most of the work. I plan to use an activity next session to shift responsibility to him.

You need to be prepared to give and receive constructive feedback. Provide a copy of your written analysis to each of your group members.

AUDIO/VIDEO RECORDING RULES

Recordings will be turned in on time. We will review at least several each week. Unclear recordings will be returned to students with no grade. Recordings must be accompanied by a release form signed by client (once per client per semester). Recordings will have student's name and session # labeled clearly; you are responsible for recording in a standard format playable on any PC computer- test your recordings on a PC prior to bringing them to class.

As in the other clinical courses, learning in this course is developmental, a recording which earns a satisfactory at the beginning of the course would, if turned in later in the course, probably receive a lower rating. Basically, this means that standards for a given rating get higher as the semester progresses.

8. The student is expected to perform activities that a regularly employed staff member in the setting would be expected to perform. A regularly employed staff member is defined as a person occupying the professional role to which the student is aspiring.

9. The student will complete an evaluation of field site experiences during the last week of the semester. These evaluations will be filed with the department's Coordinator for Field Placement.
10. The student will maintain professional liability insurance throughout internship.

STUDENT PERFORMANCE EVALUATION CRITERIA AND PROCEDURES

Students will be evaluated on their continued development and demonstration of the following clinical skills and competencies. A mid-term & end-of-semester evaluation will be conducted. Grading in this course is twofold, and is contingent upon both assignments as well as clinical performance of skills. Poor performance on skills, regardless of grades on written assignments will not lead to a passing grade, but great clinical performance and poor assignments will not either; it is a combination of good performance on both. To pass = A or B, while C or below = fail for the following performance areas:

Process Skills: These include skills learned in Pre-Practicum and refer to counselor behaviors that can be observed either through two-way mirrors, video or audio recording. These skills enhance the process of counseling and will be evaluated in their execution rather than their choice.

Conceptual Skills: Most of the counselor's covert behaviors are found here. Conceptual skills reflect deliberate thinking and case analysis. There are two kinds of thinking in this area: conceptualization during the session and between the sessions. Kinds of behaviors that represent these skills include:

- understanding what the client is saying;
- identifying themes in the client messages;
- choosing strategies appropriate to client goals;
- recognizing even subtle improvement by the client.

Personalization Skills: These include both easily observable and subtle behaviors. Because counseling is a very personal activity, these skills will indicate how well the student has adjusted to the role of helper. Examples of these might include:

- comfort with the responsibility of being a counselor;
- being able to separate one's own issues from those of the client.

Professional Skills: These include ethical behaviors both within, and outside, counseling sessions. Examples include, but are not restricted to, the following:

- completing paper work on time,
- safeguarding confidentiality,

- behaving professionally in field placement,
- dressing appropriately for counseling contacts,
- not being defensive with an accusing client,
- being able to handle a range of personal emotions, and
- being able to accept constructive critique.

When students demonstrate personal limitations that might impede future performance, or consciously violate ethical standards, and are ineffective and harmful to clients, then these students will not receive the instructor's endorsement to continue with the program and pass the course.

THEORY OF CHANGE PAPER GUIDELINES FOR INTERNSHIP 2

In efforts to insure that students are achieving overall program learning objectives and that excellence is maintained in the preparation of counselors, each student's learning of overall program objectives is evaluated in the manner described below.

Counseling Program

During Internship 2 (Weeks 10-13 during 15-week terms; Weeks 8-9 during 10-week terms) students will submit a written project in which they address the following:

1. Identify a theory-of-choice.
2. Thorough discussion of theory including, but not limited to, the following:
 - Founder(s)/developer(s)/advancers (who has added to or modified the theory)
 - Basic belief about human nature
 - Nature of change
 - Descriptions of specific techniques/interventions associated with theory
 - Descriptions of other techniques/interventions from other theories that integrate well with techniques/interventions associated with theory
 - Discussion of how core conditions/response dimensions can be integrated with theory
3. Application of theory in group settings, including how application might differ depending upon stage of group development.
4. Application of theory in working with individuals from diverse groups, including specific groups with which theory might not be particularly viable.
5. Description of investigation/research project in which effectiveness of particular technique/intervention associated with theory of choice.

These written projects will be evaluated using the following rubrics:

Basic knowledge of theory-of-choice

0 – Cannot identify theory of choice

1 – Identifies theory of choice, including founder/developer. Unable to discuss basic human nature or nature of change

1 – Identifies/lists techniques/interventions associated with theory, describing/discussion 1 or 2.

2 – Identifies techniques/interventions associated with theory, describing/discussing 3 or more. Adequately discusses incorporation of core conditions/response dimensions. Identifies/lists and describes/discusses incorporation of 1 or 2 techniques/interventions from other theories.

3 – Identifies techniques/interventions associated with theory, describing/discussing 3 or more. Thoroughly describes/discusses incorporation of core conditions/response dimensions and identifies/lists and describes/discusses 1 or 2 techniques/interventions from other theories; OR adequately describes/discusses incorporation of core conditions/response dimensions and describes/discusses 3 or more techniques/interventions from other theories, and their incorporation into counseling within theory-of-choice.

4 – Identifies techniques/interventions associated with theory, describing/discussing 3 or more. 4 – Describes/discusses thoroughly application of theory in group settings including how that application might vary based upon stage of group development.

Theory-of-choice with diverse groups

0 – Describes/discusses theory and separately describes/discusses diverse groups. Fails to integrate at all both.

1 – Identifies 1 or 2 diverse groups and describes/discusses working with them within “bounds” of theory.

2 – Identifies all diverse groups with which theory might be viable. Describes/discusses working with 1 or 2 of these groups within “bounds” of theory.

3 – Identifies all diverse groups with which theory might be viable. Describes/discusses working with them within “bounds” of theory; OR identifies 1 or 2 diverse groups.
