Course Description: This course examines the origin, development, and distinctive features of American higher education. Special emphasis is given to the traditional and contemporary roles of postsecondary institutions, and how political, economic, and social forces have altered the public and private college and university landscape.

Student Learning Outcomes:
This course may not resemble any history course you have taken previously, which is intentional. Many history classes in the past have been organized in a chronological fashion, for example, an American history course that begins with the earliest settlements in the American colonies and continues to the modern day (if the term is long enough to cover this chronology). This format tends to be tedious and does not allow for in-depth researching of specific topics. History of Higher Education in the United States does not follow such a format, focusing instead on topics that will enable you to understand how America’s colleges and universities evolved into the institutions we know today.
Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to

1. Identify the influence of European models of higher education on American institutions. Specifically, the student will be able to
   1.1 Delineate the medieval universities in Europe, especially the British and the German models of higher education.
   1.2 Describe the vestiges of the British and the German models of higher education in American institutions.

2. Demonstrate an understanding of state and Federal influence in American higher education. Specifically, the student will be able to
   2.1 Describe the involvement of the Federal and state governments in private higher education.
   2.2 Discuss the advent and development of public higher education in America.
   2.3 Identify and describe the Federal legislation applicable to higher education.
   2.4 Describe the role of state governments in public higher education.

3. Describe the progression of higher education curriculum in America. Specifically, the student will be able to
   3.1 Identify the curriculum of higher education in 1800.
   3.2 Identify the curriculum of higher education in 1890.
   3.3 Identify the curriculum of higher education in 1980.

4. Discuss the origins and development of the community college in America. Specifically, the student will be able to 4.1 Identify the uniqueness of the American community college.
   4.2 Place the community college in the context of American higher education.

5. Present an argument on the future of higher education in America. Specifically, the student will be able to 5.1 Identify the national and regional higher education associations.
   5.2 Describe the threats to public higher education in America.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Instructional Methods/Activities/Assessments

As a core class for the Higher Education doctorate, History of Higher Education in the United States is a rigorous course that requires superior performance by students. Hence, all students will be held to the highest expectations in all course requirements. One of the purposes of HIED 627 is to develop or to reinforce your research skills. Hence, you will be expected to explore in the course text as well as outside resources for sufficient information to understand thoroughly each week’s topic. PLEASE DO NOT presume that you can find sufficient information for this course solely from Internet sites.

A serious commitment to mastery of the content. An online course inherently requires students to assume the responsibility for their own learning and to be active, self-directed learners.

Research/reading in the course text and in supplementary outside resources. Note—due to the objectives of the course and the sequence in the Course Outline, students will be expected to search the course text as well as outside resources for sufficient information to understand thoroughly each week’s topic. This process is designed to enhance students’ skills in researching topics.

Participation in online threaded discussion over each research/reading assignment. (Note—no late participation will be accepted. IMPORTANT—relying solely on the lectures and the text for your threaded discussion posts will be considered average work and will be graded accordingly. In addition, please remember to cite all references appropriately, quoting any use of exact wording of authors and adhering to APA and university standards. Deviation from these standards will also result in a reduced grade. Initial responses to the discussion questions are due by Wednesday of each week. Responses to at least 2 of your peers are due by the Saturday of each week. No partial credit/points will be given. Both the initial response and responses to your peers must be completed and completed by the due date to receive credit. Both components: 1) the initial discussion question and responses to peers and 2) initial response and responses to the peers, must be completed for credit/points. Failure to complete one or more components will result in no points/credit being given.

Tests over reading assignments. [Note—these tests are intended to be completed ONLY after completion of each week’s research/reading as well as group discussion and threaded discussion of the research/reading.] You will only have one attempt to complete the test.

A final exam.

All students must submit a paper focusing on one of the five major student learning outcomes listed above. (NOTE: late submissions WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED.) Papers must be thoroughly edited and must conform to the requirements of the APA Style Manual.

IMPORTANT—Please understand that writing is more than what you write or how much you write. How well and, more importantly, how correctly you express yourself in your writing is a critically important skill in this program. Consequently, the papers for this semester will be assessed for accuracy and adherence to APA standards (including grammar, punctuation, and spelling) in addition to content. Furthermore, any incidence of academic dishonesty in these papers will result in a penalty commensurate with the infraction (as noted below).

Grading

The following criteria will be utilized for student evaluation:

- Participation in weekly threaded discussion
- Quizzes
- Final exam

(Note—points will be deducted for writing errors or APA violations.)

Assignments are subject to change at the instructor’s discretion.

(Please remember, no grade below a B may be applied to a doctoral degree.)

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

This course will be using myLeo Online (D2L Brightspace) for course delivery and for all student submissions and discussion. All direct communication with the class and the professor will be conducted in the appropriate week’s threaded discussion session. Group discussions may utilize any technological link preferred by the individual group.

Access to the library’s available databases via the student’s MyLeo account will be required, unless the student prefers to use the library’s holdings in person.

Browser Support

D2L is committed to performing key application testing when new browser versions are released. New and updated functionality is also tested against the latest version of supported browsers. However, due to the frequency of some browser releases, D2L cannot guarantee that each browser version will perform as expected. If you encounter any issues with any of the browser versions listed in the tables below, contact D2L Support, who will determine the best course of action for resolution. Reported issues are prioritized by supported browsers and then maintenance browsers.
Supported browsers are the latest or most recent browser versions that are tested against new versions of D2L products. Customers can report problems and receive support for issues. For an optimal experience, D2L recommends using supported browsers with D2L products.

Maintenance browsers are older browser versions that are not tested extensively against new versions of D2L products. Customers can still report problems and receive support for critical issues; however, D2L does not guarantee all issues will be addressed. A maintenance browser becomes officially unsupported after one year.
