From Cloud Computing to Urban Farming: Pivot Adds Keywords

Research fields are continuously growing and evolving. To keep pace, Pivot periodically adds new terms to fit emerging fields of interest to our customers. Our most recent additions cover disciplines within the sciences, social sciences, humanities, and the arts, and include keywords such as Nosocomial Infections, STEM Education, Clean Technology, Carbon Sequestration, Organized Crime, Energy Industry, Synthetic Biology, Sustainable Design, Human Trafficking, Electronic Health Records, Green Buildings, Cloud Computing, and Urban Farming.

These keywords - like all others - are applied by editors to index Pivot funding opportunities. Using years of experience and knowledge, Pivot keyworders regularly review each record in the database with the goal of enabling users to find the most relevant opportunities for their field of study. Records are carefully tagged, with keywords being added or deleted as opportunities are added, changed, or new terms become available.

Track or Share an Item

Tracked opps are opportunities that you are tracking on your homepage, and are less critical than the Active opps. Tracked opps are opps that you would like to follow, and for which you can receive a Funding Alert.

Active opps are opportunities that you are tracking on your homepage, and have deemed important or critical. Active opps are most likely opps for which you plan to apply or for which you’ve already applied and would like to keep a close eye on. When you mark an opp as Active, it will be listed in the Active section on your homepage, which is shown to you immediately upon logging into your homepage.

You can share funding opps as well as saved search queries with colleagues. The Shared area of your homepage is where Pivot tracks funding opps that you have shared in the last 60 days.

Advisor

The Advisor analyzes your Profile and matches you with funding opps. The Advisor analyzes several areas in your profile (statement of Expertise, publications, CV information, abstracts and more) and shows you funding opportunities that match up with those areas, some which you may not have found through simple searching. The more detail included in your profile, the better the Advisor matches will be.
