In today's business world, a college degree is often the springboard to career advancement. You know this too well. That's why you started working toward your degree. You had good intentions of finishing, but life happened and graduation day never materialized.

That's why A&M-Commerce established the general studies degree program. We understand that there are lots of reasons why you didn't finish. It may have been years since you've been on a college campus. The B.G.S. program is for students like you. You may just need to find a way to take all that you've done in school, and wrap it up into an official degree plan. The general studies program is for you too.

YOUR PATH TO GRADUATION

STEP ONE: Select ANY four upper-division courses from one of the following colleges:

- College of Business
- College of Education and Human Services
- College of Science, Engineering and Agriculture
- College of Humanities, Social Sciences and Arts

STEP TWO: Select ANY four upper-division courses from ANY of the three remaining colleges.

STEP THREE: Complete four general studies courses:

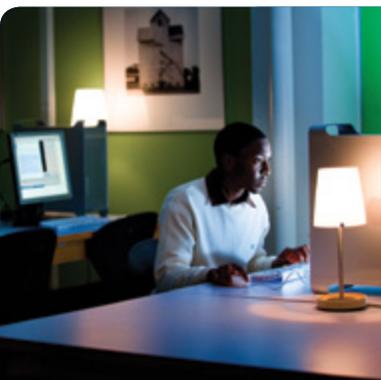

- BGS 401 Ceaseless Industry-Globalization
- BGS 402 Fearless Investigation-Research
- BGS 403 Unfettered Thought-Sustainability
- BGS 404 Unselfish Service to Others-Diversity

STEP FOUR: Graduate with a bachelor's degree in general studies.

STEP FIVE: Utilize your degree to move up the corporate ladder, or transition into a new, fulfilling career.

REQUIRED COURSEWORK

After completing 85 hours of coursework toward your degree from an accredited institution, you're only 12 courses away from graduating with a bachelor's degree. Each course is available online or in the classroom, allowing you the flexibility to complete your degree at a time and place most convenient to you.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND FINANCIAL AID

are available for new and current students pursuing the general studies program. Check out our Web site for more information
