Admission to Doctoral Degree Programs

Students wishing to be considered for admissions into a doctoral program must meet the general requirements for admission to Graduate Studies; have an overall undergraduate grade point average of 2.75 on a 4.00 scale, or a 3.00 on the last 60 undergraduate hours, or a 3.40 for a master's degree and work beyond the master's level; and must meet all departmental requirements, such as GRE, letter of recommendation, interviews, portfolio, etc. Individual departments may establish additional requirements for admission to a specific degree program. Applicants will be required to fulfill any additional requirements established by the major department.

Educational Psychology forms: <http://www.tamuc.edu/academics/graduateSchool/documents/stogforepsy.pdf>

Applications of students who have met the requirements listed above will be forwarded to the major department. The department will review each application and make a recommendation regarding admission status to the Dean of Graduate Studies, who will send notice of the admission decision to the applicant. Some departments have specific dates for the departmental review of applications. Applications submission deadlines are available: <http://www.tamuc.edu/academics/graduateSchool/documents/doctoraladmissionpacket.pdf>

A student is either granted full admission or denied full admission. There is no provisional or conditional admission status. A doctoral student who has not enrolled for 5 calendar years must apply for readmission under current admission standards for doctoral programs. If a student does not enroll for a semester, their matriculation will close and must contact the Graduate School to open their registration again.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DOCTORAL DEGREE:

DegreeWorks

DegreeWorks is a web-based planning tool to help students and advisors monitor student's progress toward degree completion. DegreeWorks is not a substitution for consultation with an academic advisor. DegreeWorks shows the student in an easy to read format, the courses that must be completed to achieve their chosen degree. All currently enrolled graduate students who attend Texas A&M University-Commerce should use DegreeWorks.

Course Requirements

A minimum of 90 semester hours beyond the baccalaureate degree or 60 semester hours beyond the master's degree is required for the doctoral degree. At least 45 hours of graduate course credit must be earned from Texas A&M University-Commerce. Master's level 595 research courses cannot be used toward a doctoral program. All courses applied toward a doctoral degree must be 500-level or higher. Undergraduate courses taken for graduate credit are not applicable to a doctoral degree. No more than 12 graduate semester credit hours (including hours completed in non-degree status) beyond the master's degree taken prior to admission to a doctoral program can be applied toward a doctoral degree.

1. Major. A major requires at least 36 semester hours excluding dissertation hours (718); however, a specific program may require additional semester hours for a major. (Specific program requirements are listed under each departmental section of this catalog.)
2. Minor. Students selecting the 60 hours beyond the master's degree option are not required to have a minor. A minor consisting of a minimum of 30 semester hours is required in all 90-hour programs except counseling, educational psychology, and English programs. The minor requirement can be fulfilled by one of the following options:
  1. A comprehensive minor with all course work in one academic area. A committee member will be assigned from the academic area and will determine the courses to be taken and be involved in evaluating the written and oral qualifying examinations, the dissertation, and the dissertation defense.
  2. A split minor of two academic areas with at least 12 hours in each area (a 12-18 or 15-15 format). Committee members will be assigned from both academic areas, and they will determine the courses to be taken and to be involved in the written and oral qualifying examinations, the dissertation, and the dissertation defense.
  3. An interdisciplinary studies minor in three academic areas (a 12-9-9 format). In rare cases, an interdisciplinary studies minor consisting of at least 9 hours in each of three academic areas may be approved. Committee members will be assigned from each of the academic areas and will be involved in the written and oral qualifying examination, the dissertation proposal, and the dissertation defense.

Regardless of the option chosen the following conditions will apply: assignment of minor advisors rests with the head of the minor department or departments; all courses applied to the minor areas must be approved by the head of the appropriate minor department; at least one committee member must be from outside the student's major department; transfer courses applied toward a minor must be in academic areas taught at Texas A&M University-Commerce.

Other Requirements:

Credit for no fewer than nine semester hours and not more than 12 semester hours of dissertation (718) will be given.

Electives and other course requirements as indicated under each departmental section of this catalog.

Specific program requirements are listed under each departmental section of this catalog.

Grade Point Average. A grade point average of 3.00 or better on all graduate work completed at Texas A&M University-Commerce and an overall grade point average of 3.00 or better on all graduate courses completed, is required for graduation. If a course is retaken, the last grade will be counted toward graduation and computation of the overall grade point average. No grade of “C” or below will count toward a doctoral degree. A course in which an “F” is received is considered a course completed. Only grades earned at Texas A&M University-Commerce will be calculated into student’s grade point average.

Academic Probation and Suspension from Doctoral Degree Programs. A student who fails to achieve and maintain an overall 3.00 graduate grade point average during any semester of enrollment will be placed on academic probation. A student who fails to achieve a 3.00 overall graduate grade point average by the end of the next semester of enrollment will be placed on academic suspension for a minimum of two semesters (two summer terms count as one semester). After the academic suspension is served, the student may be allowed to re-enroll only upon the recommendation of the major department and with the approval of the Dean of the Graduate School. Failure to achieve an overall 3.00 graduate grade point average during any subsequent semester of enrollment will result in dismissal, and the student will not be allowed to pursue further study toward the doctoral degree at Texas A&M University-Commerce. No course with a grade of “C” or lower will count toward a doctoral degree. A student receiving a grade of “C” or lower in a third graduate course will be suspended and will not be allowed to pursue further doctoral study at Texas A&M University-Commerce. This provision applies to all courses taken, including all duplicated courses. Courses taken from other institutions will not be transferable if taken during a period of suspension from Texas A&M University-Commerce. Students on academic suspension from another institution will not be admitted to Texas A&M University-Commerce until their specific period of suspension expires. A student who fails to meet the professional expectations of the field for which they are preparing may be suspended from further study in that program by the department administering that program.

A doctoral student who has not been enrolled for a period of at least 6 years may submit a graduate petition for removal of grades after 6 years to the Dean of the Graduate School to have previous graduate grades eliminated from the calculation of the official grade point average. No courses eliminated from such calculation could be used toward a graduate degree.

Doctoral Degree Residency. After admission to a doctoral degree program, each student is required to engage in activities that fulfill departmental residency requirements. The departmental residency plan specifies requirements in the following areas:

1. Involvement in events that broaden intellectual growth.
2. Use of academic support resources.
3. Faculty-student interactions that promote scholarship, mentoring, and opportunities for evaluation.
4. Involvement with cognate disciplines and research scholars in those disciplines.
5. Engagement in meaningful peer interactions.

Please check with the major department for specific requirements. Successful completion of residency is conferred by approval of the department.

Time Limitation. Course work taken beyond the master's degree that is over 10 years old at the time the doctoral degree is to be conferred cannot be used toward the doctoral degree. A doctoral student who has not enrolled for 5 calendar years must apply for readmission under current admission and program standards for doctoral programs.

Catalog Privileges. A student is entitled to use the degree provisions of any catalog in effect between the semester the student is admitted to the doctoral degree program and the semester the student's degree is conferred, provided the catalog used is not more than 10 years old at the time the degree is conferred.

Research Tools. All research tools courses must be taken at Texas A&M University-Commerce. Candidates for the doctoral degree must possess proficiency in the use of the research skills necessary to successfully complete the doctoral dissertation. Research tool courses must include bibliographic research skills so that the candidates are able to find, evaluate, use, and communicate information in all its various formats. It is desirable for students to demonstrate these proficiencies early in their program; however, if that is not possible, students should demonstrate such proficiency prior to taking the qualifying examinations.

Research tools requirements for doctoral degrees in the College of Education and Human Services can be met by successfully completing required coursework.

- The Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) requires 12 hours of prescribed coursework.
- The Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) requires 15 hours of prescribed coursework.
- Courses must be completed with a grade of B or better.
- Only doctoral research tool courses approved in advance of their offering, by the Graduate Council can be used to satisfy this requirement.
- These course requirements cannot be met through individual studies courses.

The research tools requirement for the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in English can be met with any of the following options:

1. Twelve semester hours of college-level classes in one foreign language, as verified by official transcript, or
2. Successful completion of a foreign language reading exam, as assessed by departmental faculty and written verification sent to the Graduate School, or
3. Verified native or near-native competence in a second language, as assessed by departmental oral examination and written verification sent to the Graduate School, or
4. Completion of any four of the following courses, with a grade of B or above: ENG 501, ENG 520, ENG 599, ENG 613, ENG 686, ENG 710, ENG 780, PSY 612.

These requirements are to be viewed as minimal requirements. Consequently, a department may require additional research tool courses either for all of their students or as a requirement for an individual student based upon that student's need.

Students cannot be admitted to doctoral candidacy until the research tools requirement has been met.

Qualifying Examinations. Upon the completion of approximately 2 full years of study, doctoral students take written and oral qualifying examinations. The qualifying examinations are designed to test the student's knowledge in the major and minor fields and are administered under the direction of an advisory committee consisting of representatives from the major and minor departments. An application for taking qualifying examinations and a current Texas A&M University-Commerce transcript must be submitted to the major department at least 3 weeks prior to the examinations. An applicant who does not pass the qualifying examinations may be suspended from the doctoral program, or upon the recommendation of the advisory committee and with the approval of the Dean of the Graduate School, may be permitted to repeat the examinations. It is the student's responsibility to submit all documents to the Graduate School.

Admission to Candidacy for Doctoral Degree. After the qualifying examinations and all research tools have been satisfactorily completed and all requirements have been verified by the Graduate School, the student will be admitted to candidacy. Notification of admission to candidacy will be made by the Dean of the Graduate School. After a student has been admitted to candidacy and all course work (except 718 Dissertation) has been completed, the student may qualify for reduced tuition for a 718. The degree can be conferred no sooner than 8 months after admission to candidacy.

Dissertation Committee. A doctoral advisory committee will be appointed for each doctoral student to oversee the dissertation process from initial proposal to completion. After consulting with the student and the faculty member in question, the head of the major department will appoint one faculty member from the major field as the dissertation advisor. After consultation with the advisor and the student, the Department Head will approve at least one or two other department members to serve on the committee, as well as an outside member. The committee will consist of a minimum of three faculty members from the student's major and minor areas of study with at least one committee member from outside the student's major department University Procedure 11.04.99.R0.23 Doctoral Advisory Committees and Dissertations. Once the committee has been formed, the Department Head will submit the Dissertation Committee Form to OTDS.

Process to Schedule Dissertation Proposal Defense. Scheduling of the dissertation proposal defense is a major step in the academic history of a doctoral student at Texas A&M University-Commerce. Below are guidelines to help students navigate through this important time. Students are expected to uphold the highest standards of research conduct and strictly adhere to all federal, state, and local regulations involving research.

To ensure integrity and compliance in research, all students involved in research activities must successfully complete training in Responsible Conduct in Research and Scholarship <http://www.tamuc.edu/research/compliance/training/Responsible-Conduct-in-Research.aspx>. Additional training is required for students (see #2 in below section: To be able to schedule proposal defense) whose research involves human subjects and must adhere to the University research compliance procedures. For questions or clarification about the student's responsibilities regarding research compliance, please contact the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs, 903-886-5766. Additional information is located online at <http://www.tamuc.edu/Research/>.

To be able to schedule proposal defense:

1. Students must complete the online training for Responsible Conduct in Research and Scholarship <http://www.tamuc.edu/research/compliance/training/Responsible-Conduct-in-Research.aspx> before the student can submit their schedule form. This training is required of all doctoral students and is good for three (3) years.
2. The student must complete the following if their proposed research/study involves:
  1. Human Subjects: Human Subjects research is defined as a systematic investigation designed to develop or contribute to generalize knowledge, which involves the collection of data from or about living human beings. In addition, all student research involving human subjects outside the classroom is considered to be in this category see <http://www.tamuc.edu/research/compliance/humanSubjectsIRB.aspx>.
    1. The student must complete the Human Subjects online training and gain approval for the inclusion of human subjects in their research/study from the Institutional Review Board (IRB) for the Protection of Human Subjects. The online training can be accessed at the following website: <http://www.tamuc.edu/research/compliance/humanSubjectsIRB.aspx>
    2. The student must gain IRB approval for their study. The process to gain approval from the IRB includes protocol application completion, submission, and revisions (if required by the Departmental IRB Representative and/or IRB) of the IRB protocol form see <http://www.tamuc.edu/academics/graduateSchool/graduateForms.aspx>. IRB protocol forms must be submitted to the Office of Sponsored Programs through the departmental IRB representative. Final approval for the inclusion of human subjects in students research/study rests with the IRB. Attach IRB approval email to schedule form

3. Submit the Schedule Form for the Proposal Defense (fully filled out and signed) to the Graduate School by the 20th of the month preceding the month in which the presentation of the Dissertation Proposal Defense is to be held. Should the 20th fall on Saturday or Sunday, the form must be filed on the Friday prior to the 20th. It is the responsibility of the student to collect all required signatures and to submit the completed form to the Graduate School.
4. Proposal. The student will work with the members of the advisory committee in developing the dissertation proposal. The proposal will be presented to the advisory committee in a session that will be open to all Graduate Faculty Members. The student must gain proposal approval at least one semester prior to graduation. After the proposal, students must submit their proposal to the Office of Thesis & Dissertation Services (OTDS) for approval. In order to submit a proposal to OTDS, a student must have committee approval and meet research compliance requirements, including IRB approval if applicable. Students may not begin collecting data for their study until they have received proposal approval from OTDS. Any data collected prior to OTDS approval is an ethical violation and the use of those data will be disallowed. It is the responsibility of the student to submit his or her proposal and all required documents to the Office of Thesis and Dissertation Services. The following items must be included with a proposal submission to OTDS:
  1. Dissertation Proposal (Word document)
  2. Proposal Approval Form
  3. Advisor's Approval to Submit Form
  4. A copy of all required training certificates and IRB approval (if applicable)
  5. iThenticate similarity report and score justification (if score is above 12%)

Again, before collecting any data you must have OTDS approval, which includes completion of the following:

- Ethics Training (CITI trainings, i.e., RCR)
- IRB, IACUC, or IBC Approval (if applicable)
- Committee, Department Head, Dean of College, and Dean of the Graduate School Approval.

Lastly, it is the student's responsibility to submit his or her proposal and all required documents to the Office of Thesis & Dissertation Services.

Dissertation Credit. After admission to candidacy, the student is required to enroll in at least 3 hours of 718 each fall and spring semester until the dissertation is completed and approved by the advisory committee and Graduate School. Enrollment during the summer term is not required unless the student is using the counsel of the major advisor and/or University facilities. Students who fail to enroll for dissertation during a fall or spring semester after admission to candidacy will be prohibited from enrolling until the tuition has been paid for those semesters.

Scheduling the Dissertation Defense. A completed and signed: Schedule for Final Dissertation form must be filed in the Graduate School by the 20th day of the month prior to the month the defense is to be held. Refer to the University Academic Calendar for dissertation defense deadline if graduating in the current semester. It is the responsibility of the student to collect all required signatures and to submit the completed form to Graduate School.

Dissertation Defense. The student will defend the completed dissertation and respond to any questions related to his/her program of study before the advisory committee in a session open to all Graduate Faculty Members. Students must be in good academic standing with the Graduate School to be eligible to defend.

Submission of Dissertation. Registration in the dissertation course (718) is required the semester that the dissertation is submitted. It is the responsibility of the student to submit his or her dissertation and all required documents to the Office of Thesis and Dissertation Services. A dissertation and required forms must be submitted to the Office of Thesis & Dissertation Services (OTDS) by the deadline indicated in the University Academic Calendar for that particular semester (this deadline is approximately 6 weeks prior to commencement). It is the student's responsibility to submit his or her dissertation and all required documents to the OTDS. Submit the following items:

- Final Dissertation (Word document)
- Final Examination/Dissertation Defense Report
- Survey of Earned Doctorates (required for Ph.D. students only, not Ed.D. students)
- Advisor's Approval to Submit Form
- Dissertation Information Sheet
- iThenticate similarity report and score justification (if score is above 12%)

The candidate will be contacted with any changes to the manuscript. After making these changes, and gaining the advisor's approval, the student will resubmit the corrected dissertation for final approval (final approval of the dissertation rests with the Dean of the Graduate School). Once the Office of Thesis and Dissertation Services has given final approval of the dissertation the student will upload the dissertation to ProQuest and pay for publishing, binding, and copyrighting (if applicable). Three copies will be bound and distributed to the student's major department, major advisor and the library. The student may order more copies through ProQuest. Once OTDS has given full approval of the dissertation the student will upload his or her dissertation to ProQuest.

Filing for Graduation. Commencement exercises are held three times each academic year in May, August, and December. Students must file for graduation with the Registrar's Office during the semester they plan to graduate. Students will be approved for graduation and the degree after they have completed all degree requirements satisfactorily, have been approved by the Graduate Committee of the department, and the Graduate School. Please check the University Academic Calendar for deadline dates for filing. Graduation information and a graduation application are available online at <http://www.tamuc.edu/admissions/registrar/default.aspx>. Students may apply for graduation through MyLeo. A student must be in good academic standing in order to complete graduation requirements. Participation in the commencement ceremony does not guarantee conferring of any degree. Texas A&M University-Commerce has the right to rescind any conferred degree if the University becomes aware that the student did not meet degree requirements.

Earning Graduate Credit

Transfer of Credit

Transfer courses applied to a doctoral degree must be in a graduate academic area taught by Texas A&M University-Commerce. Credit for graduate coursework taken from other regionally accredited graduate schools in the United States is granted in accordance with approval by the student's advisory committee and evaluation by the Graduate School. Time limitations on transfer courses are the same as for A&M-Commerce courses. Research tool courses must be taken at Texas A&M University-Commerce and are not allowed to be transferred. Transfer credit will be granted for only those courses in which the student received a grade of "B" or better.

Experiential Credit

Experiential credit is limited to one-third of the hours required for an A&M-Commerce master's/specialist program. The remainder of the graduate program must consist of coursework completed at A&M-Commerce. Awarding of this credit will be based solely on experiential learning that is part of an official agreement between the University and another national, state, or regionally accredited institution or certifying agency.

The combination of experiential credit, transfer credit, or credit from a previous A&M-Commerce graduate degree is limited to one-third of the hours required for an A&M-Commerce master's/specialist program. The remainder of the graduate program must consist of coursework completed at A&M-Commerce.

Correspondence Courses

Credit earned by correspondence will not apply toward a doctoral degree.

Independent Studies

Registration in an individual studies (589 or 689), research, or similar course shall imply an expected level of effort on the part of the student comparable to that associated with an organized class with the same credit value. No more than twelve graduate semester credit hours (including master's credit) of individual studies courses may be applied to a doctoral degree. Independent Studies course credit cannot be used toward fulfilling the residency requirement.

Enrollment Limitation or Administrative Withdrawal

Enrollment in any graduate course is subject to approval by the department offering the course, the instructor teaching the course, and the Dean of the Graduate School, whether or not such is specifically stated in the course description. A student may be prevented from enrolling in the course or dropped from the course if it is already in progress if the Graduate Dean, Department Head, or a faculty member considers the student physically or mentally incapable of performing satisfactorily or safely in a course, or if the student becomes a threat to the instructor or others in the course or is disruptive in any way. In such cases, the Graduate Dean will confer with the faculty member and Department Head involved and then take appropriate action. Any tuition refund to which the student is entitled will be determined according to the University schedule for refunds and will be based on the date on which the student was dropped from the course.

They have free pdf software available on their site which you can use once we send you the Proquest link. You will fill out all their documents online and pay for 3 copies to be bound and distributed as follows: One copy to the library, one for the department, and one copy to your advisor. At this time, you will also order any additional copies you may wish for yourself.
