This form can be used to request a recalculation of a student's 2022-2023 financial aid eligibility when the student or family has experienced a change in financial circumstances that may lower the student and/or student's family resource on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Depending on the timeframe that the financial change was incurred, Tax information and W2's, if not already on file, and any other documents that are needed to finalize the special circumstance may be requested after initial review.*

(Initial)_____Special circumstance requests submitted for Fall 2022 will not be reviewed until the census date has passed for the term, that being 09/14/2022. Requests submitted for Spring 2023 will not be reviewed until the census date has passed for the term.

(Initial)_____This form will not be processed until the student's financial aid file is complete and a 2022-2023 financial aid award has been processed. We cannot make adjustments for students with rejected financial aid applications on file. Student/Families with a zero Expected Family Contribution (EFC) are not eligible for a special circumstance request review as the EFC cannot be reduced any further.
